TWO DISPUTE:

Talcum Official Denial

Mennen Says No Union-Busting Effort Made

WASHINGTON (INS) — A lather of contradiction foamed up Thursday around a Mennen company vice president's denial that his firm operated a 1954 union-busting campaign.

Two former Mennen employees and a letter exhibited by Senate rackets probers disputed testimony of the soap and talcum company's vice president, George Mennen.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy likewise said testimony by one of the former employees, one-time Mennen personnel manager David Nagle, of Mountain Lakes, N. J., was in "direct contradiction" with that of Mennen and two of his aides.

Mennen, recalled to the stand, said he was "heartfelt" about the letter suggesting the company would pay as much money as the union if the employees voted against the union.

He said the locals which were run by Johnny Dio and other gangsters had created an "intolerable situation."

Public Property

Mennen said he did not mention the letter earlier because it had been public property.

He said he thought Kennedy's earlier questioning referred to the possibility of Mennen's circulating among the employees and striking up anti-union conversation, which he repeated he did not do.

Nagle told probers that Louis Jackson, then an employee of alleged big-time union-buster Nathan Shefferman, masterminded the plot to oust Local 649, AFL-United Automobile Workers, from the plant and block workers from joining the United Chemical Workers.

Nagle, who left the firm under fire in 1955, linked company attorney James L. R. Lafferty and Henry Oldenburger, manager of the Mennen Morristown, N. J., plant to the scheme.

He said they guided the plan that resulted in defeat for both the UAW-AFL—an outfit run by convicted New York gangster John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi—and the Chemical Workers Union.

Rain Predicted For Southeast

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were predicted for southeastern Nebraska Friday night while colder temperatures and possible rain and snow or a mixture of both were forecast for the northwest.

High readings Friday were to be 50 to 55 in the northwest and 65 to 70 in the southeast. Thursday's top temperatures ranged from 60 at Chadron to 69 at Norfolk, with Lincoln reporting 68.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Considerable cloudiness Friday through Saturday night; rain mixed with snow in extreme northwest portion Friday night with rain elsewhere Saturday night and snow in west and northern portions; scattered showers and thunderstorms southeast Friday night; scattered showers and thunderstorms east-south-east; occasional rain northwest; colder northwest Friday night. High Friday in the 60s.

KANSAS: Considerable cloudiness Friday night and so warm northwest; occasional showers southwest Friday night; scattered showers and thunderstorms east-south-east; occasional rain northwest; colder northwest Friday night. High Friday in the 60s.

HALLOWEEN 'QUIET'—COPS

"Exceptionally quiet" was the way police described Halloween 1957.

Detective Bob Sawdon said that this Halloween followed a trend set over the past four or five years of each successive Halloween being more quiet than the last. He reported complaints came into the police station about the same as a usual night.

No serious property damage was reported. Several bands of youths were held at headquarters for a few hours in connection with minor incidents but none was arrested and booked.

Knight To Seek Job In Senate

... Paper Reports

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Examiner said Thursday that California's Gov. Goodwin J. Knight has decided to run for the U. S. Senate instead of seeking re-election, thus leaving the Republican gubernatorial nomination to Sen. William F. Knowland.

The paper's political specialist, Clint Mosher, wrote: Knight reached his decision Thursday afternoon. The White House and Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Washington were notified that the decision was "official." All information came from Washington.

Knight's executive secretary, Newton Stearns, said the governor had no comment; he "doesn't deny or affirm."

Knight is recuperating, in seclusion, from influenza. Mosher said Knight is expected to go to Washington perhaps in a week to talk with Nixon and probably with President Eisenhower.

No Opposition

Knowland thus presumably will encounter no serious opposition for the Republican nomination. Only he and Knight have announced for it.

At the polls he would face Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, the only Democrat seeking nomination.

"The governor," said Mosher, "made up his mind with one principal fact in mind: A continued knockdown and drag out fight between him and Knowland for the governorship would pave the way for the loss of California to the Democrats in 1958 and 1960."

California Democrats have a 3-2 registration edge over the Republicans.

It's uncertain who will seek the Democratic senatorial nomination. Rep. Clair Engle, a liberal who has taken a strong stand on public power, is considered a probable candidate.

NAACP Officers Sought

Little Rock City Council Calls For Arrest

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Little Rock City Council Thursday night ordered the arrest of all officers of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the city.

The council acted under provisions of a new ordinance which requires certain organizations to make public on demand their confidential records.

Thursday was the deadline for the NAACP to file its report with the city clerk but it failed to do so. Eight of the city's 10 aldermen, meeting in special session and acting as a committee of the whole, ordered the arrests of Mrs. L. C. Bates, state NAACP president, and the Rev. J. C. Crenshaw, president of the Little Rock chapter.

Only Officers

Mrs. Bates and the Rev. Mr. Crenshaw are the only known officers of the NAACP in Arkansas. Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett, who drafted the ordinance and asked all Arkansas cities to adopt it, met with the aldermen.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann, who on Oct. 15 wrote the NAACP and three pro-segregationist organizations to make public their records, was in New York on business. Alderman Lee H. Evans served as acting mayor.

Effective Today

Evans said he would direct city police to arrest Mrs. Bates, the Rev. Mr. Crenshaw and any NAACP officer who can be found. The arrest order will take effect Friday.

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, said in New York that Mrs. Bates would return "shortly" to Little Rock from New York and "will be represented by adequate counsel."

Mrs. Bates spoke Thursday night at the Cosmopolitan Club in New York to a local NAACP committee. A spokesman said she planned to return to Little Rock sometime after a Sunday speaking engagement in New York.

"Her home is there and her interests are there," the spokesman said, "and she is not the kind to run away from a fight."

HOMECOMING LIGHTS ON AT 7

Homecoming displays at 35 organized houses will be lighted from 7-11 p.m. Friday night.

Traffic will enter at 17th & R; proceed west on R to 14th; north on 14th to S; east on S to 16th; north on 16th to V; west on V, dispersing at 14th & Vine. The police department emphasizes that 17th and R is the "only starting point."

The Saturday Homecoming parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. at 14th & Vine and proceed along this route: east to 16th; south to 9; west to 11th; north to R; east to 12th.

6 Counties Say Flu Epidemics Believed Asian

Six of eight county school superintendents reports Thursday indicated epidemics believed to be Asian flu in Brown, Madison, Howard, Johnson, Colfax and Nemaha Counties.

In reports sent to Dr. E. A. Rogers, director of the State Health Department, Merrick and Clay County superintendents said there were only scattered cases. The incidence of flu outbreaks began about Oct. 14, according to most of the reports.

Several schools were closed in Johnson and Howard Counties, where 20 to 25 per cent of the people were estimated to have had the flu.

Madison County reported only a mild epidemic. In Nemaha County the most serious outbreak was at Peru State Teachers College, where 90 per cent were thought to have flu recently.

Year's Building Pace Below '57 By $2.5 Million

Lincoln's building pace so far this year is lagging about $2.5 million behind the comparable 10-month period in 1957.

October building permits, totaling $1,468,634, included 62 single residential units and two multiple dwellings with 11 units.

The slight upsurge for October from September's $1,387,417 was termed "unusual" by the City Building Inspector's office. Good weather so late in the fall was a "possible reason."

October permits totaled 181 compared with the 189 in September, but the dollar volume was up nearly $100,000.

The 1,699 permits totaling $10,930,277 issued for 1957 through October compares with 2,071 permits amounting to $13,346,968 for the same period last year.

Foam Slicks Path

Belly - Buster Descent Is Successful

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A giant airliner with 16 on board, trapped in the sky with a broken landing gear, landed safely on its belly Thursday before thousands of spectators.

Pilot Charles Dent brought the four-engine United Air Lines DC7 in for a perfect landing on a runway made slick with fire fighting foam.

The dramatic climax, coming after the plane had circled over Los Angeles International Airport for nearly three hours, released a storm of cheers from the thousands lining the field.

Praise For Crew

The 11 passengers aboard the non-stop flight from New York heaped praise on Dent and the other members of the crew. Stewardesses Ellen Stirrat, 25, and Glenice Franklin, 20, both of New York, were described as "wonderful."

"The pilot told us to just sit back and relax and enjoy it," said one of the passengers.

Dent, of Allentown, Pa., said the right main landing gear failed to come down as he approached for a landing. He flew out over the Pacific ocean for a series of dips and dives to try and jar loose the gear and decided on a crash landing when it remained stuck.

Passengers Informed

The passengers were not informed that a belly landing would be attempted until 45 minutes before he brought the big plane in, Dent said. They were given pillows to place behind and in front of them and served coffee before the landing.

The plane skidded about 1,500 feet through the foam, which is like slushy snow. Sparks flew from beneath its silver belly as it glided smoothly down the runway.

"It came down surprisingly easy," said Dent. "We just followed procedure. It was according to the book."

TAKES OVER

Texas Ranger Captain E. J. Banks arrives in Daingerfield, Tex., to take over in the violence-torn Lone Star Steel strike. He offered to call in more Rangers if local officers need them (AP Wirephoto)

Ranger Eyes Strike Scene

6 Foot 3, 225-Pounder Steps Into Violence Area Of Texas

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP)—Texas Ranger Capt. Jay Banks, with enormous pistols strapped to his side, stepped onto the violence-torn Lone Star steel strike scene Thursday and offered to call in more Rangers if local officers need them.

Banks announced Thursday night the arrest of three men in connection with the beating of two non-strikers.

He identified the two men as James E. Pierce, 32, of Lone Star, Tex., Charles Eugene Breed, 23, a native of Lanett, Ala., who moved to Lone Star last April, and Bobby Ferguson, 23, of Diana, Tex. He said Breed and Ferguson had admitted they were in a gang that beat up James Landers, 24, and Kelly Arnold, 26. Banks, a 225-pounder and 6 feet 3, arrived from Dallas only hours after an explosion rattled a part of this northeast Texas industrial and farming area.

Cause of the explosion was not known — Some oldtime explosive experts said it sounded like a big charge of dynamite.

Residents around here said it was more of the strike violence that has split this jittery-nerved area for 40 days since most of the 3,600 workers at the steel plant struck Sept. 21.

Many have returned to their jobs, and the company has hired new men. But the union says 2,300 still are on strike.

Both sides call it a wildcat walk-out.

Gunfire

But what set residents of the 10-county area around here on edge has been recurring violence—gunfire into homes, automobiles sabotaged, men beaten and dynamite exploded.

Non-strikers took their firearms to and from work until Thursday, when Dist. Atty. Harry Williams stopped that.

A mass meeting scheduled for 1 p.m. Thursday by the United workers, was postponed until Friday without explanation.

Several arrests have been made, most of them strikers. Ed Ball, spokesman for the union, said the strikers are unjustly blamed for the violence.

$10,000 Reward

Little black and white posters are prominent around the plant. They proclaim that Lone Star will pay $10,000 to the person providing information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone injuring an employee or a member of an employee's family.

Capt. Banks said on his arrival that "we're not moving in to take over law enforcement. We're just bolstering the local law enforcement officers. If necessary, we'll give them whatever forces they need."

Banks' latest exploits include helping break up anti-integration crowds at Mansfield and Texarkana, and leading a posse which gunned down one of the southwest's notorious badmen, Gene Paul Norris, near Fort Worth to nip a planned bank holdup.

'Willing'

Red Webster, a company vice-president, said in an interview that "the company is willing to rehire all the workers as new employees—all except the leaders."

Ball, the union leader, said "the company has made it impossible to reach a solution. They want the men to come back as new men without seniority."

The dispute stems from the method the company has used in filling temporary vacancies. It contends it need not fill a vacancy if it dies not so desire.

Crash Victim Mrs. Carlson Rites Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Mae Carlson of 339 No. 3rd Ave., whose death was attributed to injuries suffered in a one-car accident early last Sunday morning, will be held Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Rogers.

The Rev. LeRoy Anson will officiate.

Deputy County Attorney Paul Douglas said Thursday that an autopsy showed the immediate cause of Mrs. Carlson's death was pneumonia, brought on by abdominal injuries suffered in the mishap.

Douglas said Mrs. Carlson, 33, was a passenger in a car driven by her cousin, Everett C. Jones of Lincoln, when the car left the road at the dead-end intersection of Burlington Avenue and the Yankee Hill Road.

The death raises the 1957 traffic toll to 240, compared with 253 at this time last year.

Consumers Seeks State Highline OK

Railway Commission Request Filed; Reclamation Bureau Aid Is Sought

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Consumers Public Power District Thursday filed an application with the Nebraska Railway Commission seeking authority to construct a 230 kilovolt electric transmission line from the Nebraska-South Dakota state line to a point near Lincoln.

R. J. Wolfe of Lincoln, chief engineer for Consumers, said negotiations are underway with the Bureau of Reclamation for the Bureau to build the connection from Fort Randall to the state line.

Consumers' action Thursday makes it the second power group to apply to the Commission for authority to build a 230 kv line utilizing power from Fort Randall Dam facilities in South Dakota.

The Nebraska Electric Generation Transmission Co-operative, Incorporated, filed an application with the Commission Sept. 30 seeking authority to build a 230 kv line covering 165.4 miles from Fort Randall to Tamora Junction, near Seward.

Joint Hearing Asked

Consumers' application included petitions asking that a hearing on its application be held simultaneously with that of the G & T. The Commission has scheduled a hearing on the G & T application for Nov. 12.

Consumers said its application is the result of a board of directors' resolution Sept. 27 which directed CPD management to "proceed promptly" in planning all necessary steps to construct the 230 kv line.

A spokesman for Consumers said the Sept. 27 action followed a report to the board by CPD engineers who made a three-week study of out-state Nebraska's present and future power needs on the electric analyzer board at Iowa State College.

Consumers states the study revealed that the 230 kv line was needed in eastern Nebraska immediately and that another 230 kv line would be needed in the Grand Island area around 1965.

Federal Tries Fail

Nebraska interests have tried for several years to get the federal government to build a line from Fort Randall to the Grand Island area, but Congress has failed to appropriate funds for the line.

Consumers officials had expressed surprise when G & T, which is made up of 22 rural public power districts and co-operatives, filed its application for a line into eastern Nebraska.

Consumers' application called for 191.5 miles of 230 kv shielded aluminum transmission line and poles ranging from 60 to 80 feet in height.

The line is to start at the Nebraska-South Dakota state line just south of the Missouri Basin power facilities near Fort Randall, then slant southeastward near Norfolk and Columbus, and then to a point within three miles of Lincoln.

Cost $5,000,000

Consumers officials pointed out that the line, designed to carry approximately 100,000 kilowatts of power, will cost about $5 million and will be privately financed.

The $5 million does not include funds for construction of sub-stations along the route, they said.

G & T reported on filing its application that Nebraska rurals had pledged over $1 million to start construction on its proposed line, and that it hoped to finance the remainder with a federal REA loan at a two per cent interest rate.

Consumers' application listed these 10 counties its proposed line would pass through and the mileage of lines within each county: Knox, 31 miles; Boyd, 19.6; Antelope, 5.4; Pierce, 29.9; Stanton, 23; Madison, 2.6; Platte, 2.6; Butler, 26; Seward, 13.9; and Lancaster, 14.5.

Brehm, Lienemann OK Ethics Code Plan

'Renewed Confidence' Voiced By County Commissioners

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Lancaster County Board Chairman Del Lienemann and County Commissioner Russell Brehm apparently settled their differences Thursday and said a "compromise" plan for establishing a County Ethics Practices Committee will be adopted at next Tuesday's Board meeting.

Lienemann and Brehm had exchanged heated charges at Tuesday Board meeting concerning unethical acts each was alleged to have committed.

The charges had come after a motion by Lienemann that he be authorized to appoint a citizen's committee which would formulate an ethics code for the Board to follow was defeated when neither Brehm nor Commissioner Rollin Bailey would second it. A counter proposal by Brehm to have the Board itself draw up such a code also failed as neither Lienemann nor Bailey would second it.

Closed Meeting
According to the joint statement issued by Lienemann and Brehm after a closed-door meeting Thursday morning the committee which will be appointed will be a citizens' committee, which is apparently just what Lienemann had proposed Tuesday. Neither Brehm nor Lienemann, however, would comment on details of the committee to be appointed.

Bailey declined to say if he would vote for establishment of the committee. He has said in the past such a committee would serve no good purpose as it could not enforce its rules.

'Regrets' Given
The statement issued by Brehm and Lienemann Thursday also said:

—Commissioner Brehm "regrets his comments made at last Tuesday's meeting regarding Mr. Lienemann."

—Chairman Lienemann "regrets his use of the word 'shakedown' in his (Tuesday) statement, which was often used in the press without the words 'appearance of'."

In another statement signed by all three commissioners, they "expressed renewed confidence and faith in each other to properly perform their duties."

All three commissioners denied any "pressure" had been put on them by any Republican Party official to reach a compromise lest their disputes do any damage to the party's chances in the next election of county commissioners.

Accusations
At Tuesday's meeting Lienemann and Brehm had each accused the other of using county letterhead stationery for personal purposes. Lienemann had also termed "not morally right" the employment by Brehm of former Commissioner Chris Kuhner to solicit advertising for The County Official, a magazine published by Brehm.

As both men were on the County Board at the time, Lienemann said this "gave the appearance to many of a shakedown."

Lienemann also criticized Kuhner for taking time with him when he retired after 12 years on the County Board the executive leather chair he used at the Commissioners Office. Brehm defended this, saying such had been a long-standing policy.

Brehm had declared that there had "been more trouble" at the County Courthouse in the 10 months that Lienemann had been Board Chairman than in the previous 11 years that he — Brehm — had served on the Board. He also accused Lienemann of "starting battles" with former Lincoln Mayor Clark Jeary and several county officials.

Saud Won't Wed Lebanese Girl, 19

CAIRO, Egypt — The Saudi Arabian Embassy Thursday denied that King Saud will marry a young Lebanese girl.

The embassy statement said: "Sources to which the so-called report was referred to are sufficient to deny its truth."

Mrs. Mumtaz Solh last Saturday confirmed reports that her 19-year-old daughter Ferial might marry 55-year-old Saud. She said there had been no final decision.

Washed Up

TOKYO — Japan's battle of the bathhouse is all washed up.

The owners of Tokyo's 2,400 public baths bowed to irate housewives and government pressure, accepting a one yen (4 cent) increase in bath charges instead of a desired two yen boost.

The new 16 yen (4.3 cents) price halted plans to close the baths.

Concordia Will Have Homecoming Queen

Seven girls are candidates for homecoming queen of Concordia College at Seward, Neb. The queen will be announced following the Concordia High School vs. Weeping Water football game Friday night. Erkelen of Topeka, Kan., Marian Pfeiffer of Seward, Joanne Garmatz of Brighton, Colo., Charlotte Hellbusch of Creston, and Carol Fritz of Verdon. Homecoming activities include the Saturday afternoon football game with Sterling, Kan., College, and a Saturday night banquet. A parade, to be staged Saturday morning, will include bands from Ulysses, Milford, Seward and Concordia High Schools in addition to the Concordia College band. Speaking at the Saturday night banquet will be President Alfred Fuerbringer of Concordia Seminary in St. Louis and former Concordia College president. (Photo Special to The Star)

Henry Luce: Ike Should Lead, Settle Man's Disputes By Law

OMAHA — Publisher Henry R. Luce Friday night said President Eisenhower should take the lead among civilized nations to create a system by which the many disputes which afflict mankind may be settled by due process of law.

There has been an amazing neglect of the law since World War Two, Luce told the Nebraska State Bar Association.

He attributed the deterioration in the world sense of law to the failure of leadership in the West — the failure of both political and intellectual leadership.

Luce said that "next to the Communist tyranny itself, the concept of national sovereignty poses the most troublesome and dangerous barrier to peace and prosperity in the free world.

"If we could solve the problem of national sovereignty, the Communist menace would be reduced by half . . . for communism feeds on the desire of the poor to be better off and the desire of people who feel inferior to exhibit their superiority through maximum display of national sovereignty.

"The only way to deal with the poisonous problem of national sovereignty is to seek the extensions of the rule of law both in general principles and in concrete agreements . . . this is the path of honor which the United States must open through the jungle of pernicious nationalism," Luce said.

Earlier, Luce said America's economy should be able to finance our part in the satellite arms race without too much strain.

Luce also opined that the arms race shouldn't trigger a worsening round of inflation.

The new arms race probably won't demand a relatively greater share of the economy than is being spent now, he said, adding: "Money that is being spent for airplanes or cannons today may be spent on something else tomorrow."

Luce said, however, that the race would require better organization, especially in the Department of Defense and in the work of our scientists.

Another important need, he said, is to improve the organization of nations of the free world, particularly NATO.

Previously, Mrs. Nixon and one of their daughters, Julie, had suffered from the mild ailment.

Texan Gets Life For Kidnaping Of A Deputy Sheriff

VERNON, Ind. (INS) — Victor W. Whitley, 26, of Granger, Tex., Thursday was sentenced to life imprisonment for kidnaping a policeman during a two-state gun battle in which two state troopers and a second gunman were slain.

Whitley was sentenced in Jennings County Criminal Court at Vernon. He still must stand trial for the first degree murder Sept. 30 of Indiana state trooper William R. Kellems. That indictment was returned by a Scott County Grand Jury at Scottsburg, Ind.

Kellems and Michigan state trooper Dugald A. Pellot were slain in separate gun battles with Whitley and a 36-year-old ex-convict from Kenova, W. Va. Taylor was slain at a road block near North Vernon.

Whitley escaped during the battle and kidnaped a Jennings County deputy sheriff, for which he was sentenced Thursday.

No Opposition To DuBois Route Known By Kotouc

FALLS CITY, Neb. — Otto Kotouc Jr., Humboldt banker, said Wednesday that he knew of no Humboldt interests opposing the 3-S Highway route through DuBois.

Kotouc, a former state senator, said that he was the chairman of a delegation which appeared recently before the Highway Advisory Commission but as far as he knew, nothing had been said which could have been construed as opposition to 3-S.

He said that what Humboldt wants is a road south to connect with 3-S and with the new Boy Scout Camp, south of Humboldt.

In setting a hearing for Nov. 26 at Pawnee City to bring together Pawnee City, Humboldt and Falls City factions, the Highway Advisory Commission said that Falls City interests traditionally have urged completion of the route east through Pawnee and Richardson Counties while Humboldt interests have opposed the road since it would divert traffic from that town to the southern 3-S route.

New Method May Curb Country's No. 1 Killer

Heart Attacks, Hardening Of Arteries

CLEVELAND — A New York doctor said Thursday his studies indicate he has found a possible method of preventing heart attacks and hardening of the arteries—the nation's No. 1 killer.

Dr. Leo Gitman, senior research associate for the Messinger Research Laboratories at Beth-El Hospital in Brooklyn, reported his findings in the 10th annual meeting of the Gerontological Society. Gerontology is the scientific study of old age.

In discussing the studies—carried on jointly by Gitman and Dr. I. J. Greenblatt, also of the Messinger Laboratories—Gitman said "It's far too early to even consider the use of our method on any wide basis on human beings."

Fat In Blood
The method, he said, involves the control of fat in blood. Too much blood fat is generally recognized as the main condition related to heart attacks and hardening of the arteries.

Gitman's studies, carried on with humans and animals, indicate that "by giving Vitamin E in very large doses we could reduce the level of blood fat in a high percentage of cases in humans."

The most readily available source for Vitamin E, he said, is wheat germ oil.

More Proof
Further proof that he may be on the right track, Gitman said, is that this research indicates that possibly the lack of Vitamin E in the human body causes the fat in blood to increase.

He said so far his research hasn't turned up any chemical except Vitamin E which has the same effect in reducing the fat in blood. Other chemicals, which outside the human body appear to have the same chemical action as Vitamin E, actually increased the fat in blood.

DAMASCUS, Syria — The Syrian government expelled London Daily Telegraph correspondent Peter Tomiatti, charging he wrote false stories about Syria.

Police called on Tomiatti, an Italian, and told him to leave the country in an hour. He and his wife left for Beirut.

Purse Checks In At D.C. Hospital 'Worn To Frazzle'

WASHINGTON — Victor Purse, storm center of a State Department row over accepting gifts, checked in at a Washington hospital Thursday for a rest.

Friends described the usually energetic 39-year-old Purse as "worn to a frazzle." They said he had gone on annual leave Thursday and expected to stay in the hospital for about three days.

Purse's condition was attributed to overwork as a protocol aide during the visit of Queen Elizabeth II, and the strain of the dispute over his acceptance of a $3,000 automobile from King Saud of Saudi Arabia.

Purse was transferred last Monday from his post as deputy chief of protocol to the department's Bureau of International Organizations affairs.

He was designated administrative staff chief. His salary of about $13,000 was maintained.

Friends said Purse has no plans to leave Washington during his time off. His office said he was expected to report back to work in about two weeks.

Purse's transfer, climaxed a month-long but quiet feud with his boss, chief of protocol Wiley T. Buchanan.

Five Youths Given Reformatory Terms

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. — Five North Platte youths were sentenced to the State Reformatory. All had confessed to one or more recent burglaries.

District Judge I. J. Nisely levied sentences of three to four years against Marion Zeigler and Frank Cardenas, both 18; and two to three years against Robert Grandel, 18; Guy Leroy Meyers, 17, and John Camfield, 17.

International Red Cross Unit OKs Ban On Mass Slaughter War Weapons

Draft Code Is Adopted

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The 83-nation International Red Cross conference Thursday adopted a draft code to ban nuclear or other weapons that might cause mass slaughter of civilians in a future war. The vote was 115-0, with the two Yugoslav delegates abstaining.

The rules will be forwarded to member governments for consideration so the Red Cross can take steps to have them enacted into international law. In general, the rules are designed to protect civilians from the effects of war. The most controversial article dealt with a ban on nuclear and other weapons of mass destruction. It says:

"Without prejudice to present or future prohibition of certain specific weapons, use is prohibited of weapons whose harmful effects—resulting in particular from dissemination of incendiary, chemical, bacteriological, radioactive or other agents—could spread to an unforeseen degree, thus endangering civilian populations."

A Russian proposal for a more complete draft was defeated 61-24 with 8 abstentions.

Japan later introduced a resolution demanding an immediate halt to nuclear tests. In a plea for prohibition of nuclear weapons, Masutaro Inoue declared that "in future atomic warfare it will be impossible for the Red Cross to operate."

India introduced another resolution asking all nations to adopt measures "to protect humanity from the awful consequences of the use of incendiary, chemical, bacteriological, radioactive and other such agents."

The bulk of the proposed rules deal with measures to protect the civilian population from acts of war, such as limiting attacks to military objectives. One article proposes that opponents agree to immunity from attack for hydroelectric dams, nuclear power stations or dikes whose destruction might endanger the civilian population.

Congratulated

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — Messages of congratulations from top Nationalist officials were sent Thursday to the two young Chinese physicists for their winning of the 1957 Nobel Prize for scientific achievement.

Dr. Chen Ning Yang and Tsung Dao Lee, the first Chinese to win the Nobel Prizes, were selected for solving a mystery surrounding fundamental structure of the universe.

Nationalist Foreign Minister George Yeh sent a congratulatory telegram to the young scientists to tell them that the "whole country was overjoyed with this recognition of their achievement."

Sertoma International President Talks Here On Proposed Youth Program

A new youth program, described as an "educational-type program for teenagers in human relations," is being developed, Elton C. Van, president of Sertoma International, said Thursday in Lincoln.

The Fort Worth, Tex., industrialist said details of the program, now being carried out on an experimental basis in some towns, probably would be announced next February.

Van addressed the Lincoln Sertoma Club on at noon luncheon and met with officers and directors of the local club Thursday evening.

A recent youth program, researched by Sertoma International and later adopted for Lincoln by the local club, was the Youth Employment Services (YES).

To Aid Teenagers

That project was designed to aid teen-age youths in finding summer jobs.

Sertoma has developed projects designed for handicapped or underprivileged youth, but the "human relations" program would be "for the average American teenager or high schooler," he said.

Speaking to the Lincoln club,

Vann complimented the group for its work in connection with the Cedars Home for Children and the YES project.

He told members to "set new horizons, but not those beyond reach in terms of service to man and youth."

Gov. Anderson Praises Nurses At State Association Meeting

Governor Victor E. Anderson Thursday evening commended Nebraska nurses for their part in making Nebraska "the place where people live longer than in any other state."

The governor was one of six speakers to address delegates attending the annual convention of the Nebraska State Nurses and Nebraska Student Nurses Associations. The four day meeting ends Friday.

Speaking on what nurses could do to further legislation important to their group, Anderson said, "Contact your legislator, let him know your interest in the legislation and make sure he fully understands your bill."

The need for more practical nurses in the state was presented by Mrs. Gladys Frey of Mitchell, president of the Licensed Practical Nurses Assn. of Nebraska. She pointed out that Omaha Technical High is the only practical nurses school in a state that has more than 133 hospitals, 350 nursing homes, plus private nursing duties, nurses for doctors offices, community projects and other numerous duties.

Dr. Arnold Limpka of Omaha, speaking on Civil Defense, urged all hospitals to establish disaster plans—before disaster strikes. All communities must share in helping following a disaster, he said, but these towns must have a basis from which to work.

"The pay may be meager or nothing for the help," Limpka added, "but the reward for saving a life might someday be tremendous."

Pointing out the necessity for the nursing team, Miss Shirley Robins of Omaha, president of the State League for Nursing, explained that specific skills of the practical nurse, the non-professional worker and all medical fields must be combined to provide the best health service possible.

Speaking on patient care, Duane Johnson of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Hospital Assn., urged that nurses "recognize patient frailties and then recognize your own frailties" to give proper treatment. "It is important for us to treat others as we would have them treat us," Johnson said.

Thirty-six nurses were given recognition at the evening banquet for 25 years service in the state nurses association. Those honored were:

Jona Horacek, McCook; Mildred Mercer, Osallala; Rachel Baker, North Platte; Florence Franz, Lincoln; Pauline Rowen, Lincoln; Gertrude Schlotzhauer, Omaha; Linda Kent, Omaha; Dorothy Mortensen, Fremont; Ella Kelly, Lincoln; Helen Ruzsa, Gretna; Eleanor Lett, Lincoln; Josephine Fleke, Grand Island; Dorothy Hansen, Omaha; Edna Gustafson, Fremont; Gladys Young, Fremont; Nellie Clark, Fremont; Clara Simons, Omaha; Gladys Burke, Lincoln; Ruby McArthur, Lincoln; Olga Geschwender, Lincoln; Emma Wall, Lincoln; Alice Keeline, Council Bluffs; Lydia Truer, York; Martha Sheldon, Hastings; Rosanna Purdum, Hastings; Maude Heffernan, Lincoln; Mary Stewart, Alliance; Helen Marsh, Lincoln; Leola Jacobsen, Nickerson; Iva Sparks, Beatrice; Alice Ryan, Fremont; Manette Mayer, Lincoln; Margaret Koura, DeWitt; Alene Voss, Beatrice; Fern Deland, Lincoln; Arie Wilson, Morrill.

Mrs. Butzbach Dies At Age 87

Mrs. Katherine Butzbach, 87, of 2348 Q, died Thursday.

Born in St. Louis, Mo., she came to Nebraska as a child and lived the rest of her life in Lancaster County.

She came to Lincoln about 13 months ago, having previously lived north of Lincoln, and near Agnew.

Surviving are her daughters, Mrs. Grace Kerr, Mrs. Beatrice Sloss, Mrs. Alice Waybright, all of Lincoln; a sister, Mrs. Cecilia Albee of Omaha; brother, Harry S. Mooney of Lincoln and one grandson.

Sound Was Still On; Chicago Gets Off Cuff Remark

CHICAGO (INS) — Guess it depends on whom you are talking to.

Poet Carl Sandburg and architect Frank Lloyd Wright were eulogizing Chicago while the city watched on television. The poet said, among other things:

"I have seen an awareness and anxiety about how Chicago builds today and tomorrow far surpassing anything I have known in past generations."

The TV show ended, but for a few moments someone forgot to turn off the sound and this comment reportedly was heard from the venerable architect:

"We'd better be getting out of here, Carl, before someone starts telling the truth."

The Bar Is Not Convinced

Proponents of separate juvenile courts in Nebraska bumped into an adamant state bar which is against such a change.

The House of Delegates of the Nebraska Bar Association refused to endorse the constitutional change which will go to the voters for decision next year. There was fear that the amendment would grant too much legislative authority over the courts, and there was also fear of jurisdictional overlapping.

The setback was a substantial one, coming as it did from the bar association. While of itself the bar's rejection does not spell defeat for the measure it is of sufficient substance to excite close general examination of court re-organization schemes.

Backers of the juvenile court proposal find themselves now required to prepare a convincing rebuttal. And while they are at it the time is proper for an explanation of the practicability of an added court in Nebraska counties and judicial districts of relatively low population, of the inadequacy of present district and county judges now exercising juvenile jurisdiction and to what degree the courts are to be charged with the correction of a delinquency that is generally in its advanced stages before it ever comes face to face with a judge.

Changing Times

Besides a night to howl for spooks and goblins, Halloween contains a lot of proof of the fact that times have changed in the last decade. There was the day when Halloween was considered a sort of legalized hour for small-time vandalism.

It was not many years ago when it would have been fatal to leave anything of value in the yard on Halloween night. If you did, you were likely never to see it again or to find it resting on top of a telephone pole or the neighbors roof.

When the "ghosts" of yesteryear went from door-to-door for tricks or treats, they actually had no idea which they would get and were prepared for either eventuality. Today, we wonder what would happen if treats were refused.

The youngsters ringing doorbells on Halloween now have nothing in their possession but a big sack which they fill with candy, gum or nuts before the night is over. It would be a good bet at any odds that you couldn't find a bar of soap on any of today's ghosts or witches or any corn in their pockets.

In Lincoln, as in many other cities across the nation, the youngsters have even abandoned the trick-or-treats routine in place of collecting money for worthy causes. Halloween night has even become routine for the Police Department with extra protective precautions taken only with the knowledge of possible trouble but with little expectation that any will materialize.

Don't look now for a conclusion from all this as that is for you to figure out. It does seem that a little of the spirit of youth might have been lost during the years and certainly things on Halloween ain't what they us'ta be.

What About The $2 Billion?

A farm program administration such as that conducted by President Eisenhower and Secretary Benson would be no friend of any outlay assuring 90 per cent of parity for farm products either by direct or indirect supports.

The administration is more interested in a maximum withdrawal of federal responsibility from anything directly related to the equalization of the farm dollar with other dollars. There is a rising conviction that it would like very much to shovel all of the accumulated food and fiber surplus over into the farmer's front yard and walk away with a curt over-the-shoulder piece of advice that if Agricola wants parity he can hunt it in the Valhalla-like market place that President Eisenhower saw in a crystal ball during his 1952 seance at Kasson, Minnesota.

In view of that it was not surprising that the Department of Agriculture recently came out with some formidable figures on the cost of direct price supports. It assured that it would cost the nation $10.5 billion per annum to provide 90 per cent of parity to agriculture on the direct payment plan. The estimate was based on the assumption that parity would be extended to 26 major crops under as much production as agriculture could generate.

The department had a smaller estimate of $7.25 billion if production was limited to the 1952-56 average level of output.

These estimates are in contrast to the Department's report that in 1956 price supports and surplus disposal programs cost about $2 billion.

The breath-taking estimates can be dismissed in that they do not limit themselves to the five basic crops which characterize past and existing programs. Nor do they contain any adjustment for an upward revision of open market prices which would inevitably follow a federal price floor at 90 per cent of parity. That was a glaring omission. All that the estimates really say is that the administration has neither changed its attitude, nor indulged in any creative thinking.

It would have been more to the point had the department discussed in terms of farm recovery and surplus control, what became of the $2 billion that was expended in 1956. Since there has been neither recovery nor an appreciable decline in surpluses one can find little recommendation in the expensive line the administration is pursuing.

Indeed, John Farmer resting his left foot on the lower wire of his fence and gazing across his sterile soil bank acres could be moved to muse that the annual $2 billion might have been better spent just buying farms for resale in future years when food demand indicated. It would be a recoverable investment rather than an annual total loss and would work toward a reconciliation of supply and demand at prices that would afford full production at 100 per cent of parity. But there must be something wrong with that. It is too simple, too logical.

A Cold Deal

Now that Yugoslavia has pleased Russia and displeased the West by recognizing East Germany the State Department is indicating that it may cut her off at the pockets as far as further foreign aid is concerned.

That should be referred to the department on second thought. This is rather late in the game to get righteous over Yugoslavia. The United States swallowed all of its political principles in the first instance when it decided to aid and abet Tito's Communist enterprise. A book full of reasons could have been prepared on why Yugoslavia should have been given the cold shoulder. But the practical consideration was that we needed Yugoslavia against Russia so we helped Tito. He never promised any reform or any real friendship, but he did take the aid and in doing so he continued to be a Russian thorn-in-the-side.

The situation is unchanged. We are no more ethical than we were. Neither is he. But he continues to be useful. And we suppose that so long as he is, we have as much reason to ladle out gifts and pay-offs to him as ever. We made it a matter of expedience over principle and inasmuch as that is so then we should not complicate it with hypocrisy.

Iron Ore Decision Raising Questions

MINNEAPOLIS — A lawsuit which will mean millions to the school children of Minnesota or millions to eastern iron and steel companies operating in Minnesota has just been decided by the state supreme court against the school children.

This writer, visiting in Minnesota, unearthed the fact that the jurist who wrote the opinion, Judge Clarence R. Magney, sold a 48-acre plot of land for an unspecified, though reportedly large, price to one of the mining companies benefiting from the decision he wrote.

The transaction took place under unusual circumstances in that no federal stamps were affixed to the deed. This is against the law. The affixing of the federal stamps would have shown how much the judge was paid for the property.

There were other unusual facts. Judge Magney retired from the Minnesota supreme court in 1953. He is no longer active, but is subject to recall. In the spring of this year he was traveling in Europe but was recalled to Minnesota to handle this vitally important case to decide who owns the iron, taconite, and other ore beds under Minnesota's lakes.

In a state which boasts that it is the "Land O' Lakes" and in which many of the 10,000 lakes have ore underneath, this is the most important decision in years. The iron and steel companies claim that the ore belongs to the owners of the lake shore; the state claims that the ore under the lake bed belongs to the state. It has now called for a rehearing.

NO STAMPS

To decide this vital question, a retired judge who had sold land for an unrecorded amount to Erie Mining Co. was called back from Europe to write the opinion. His opinion upheld the iron and steel companies, and the Supreme Court adopted his opinion.

To get the facts I first queried Ray Sjöberg, recorder of deeds in Grand Marais, Cook county. He verified the fact that Clarence R. Magney had sold lot 1, section 12, and lot 4, section 1, in township 58.5 west—a little over 48 acres—to the Erie Mining Co., on Sept. 29, 1951, and that the deed was recorded on Oct. 15, 1951. The land is located near the town of Taconite.

"Are any federal stamps attached?" I asked.

"No," Mr. Sjöberg replied.

"Isn't that unusual?"

"Yes, the federal law requires $1.10 in stamps for every $1,000 paid for the property."

"What do you do when no federal stamps are attached?"

"I ask 'em for the stamps," said Mr. Sjöberg, "but this was mailed in."

I next checked the record of mining companies in the Minnesota office of Mines and Minerals. I found that Erie Mining, which had paid Judge Magney an unrecorded amount for his land, is owned by Bethlehem Steel 45 per cent, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 35 per cent, Interlake Iron 10 per cent, and Steel Company of Canada, Ltd., 10 per cent.

The ore in litigation under the Rabbit Lake chain I found to be owned by Youngstown mines. It is being mined by Pick and Smather, who also serve as agents for Erie Mining Co. in mining its taconite. This indicated a close working arrangement between Erie Mining and the Rabbit Lake ore which the judge ruled should go to the steel companies, not the state of Minnesota.

However, the trail led even closer. Youngstown mines, I found, is 100 per cent owned by Youngstown Sheet and Tube, which in turn is a 35-per cent owner of Erie Mining. Since Bethlehem Steel owns 45 per cent of Erie, and since Bethlehem and Youngstown are so close that they are litigating with the Justice Department for the right to amalgamate, this nails Erie Mining as having a direct pecuniary interest in the ore under the Rabbit Lake chain. BOB CONSIDINE

Pursued Freedom Around The World

NEW YORK — Engineer student Zang Gi Hong, who is on his roundabout way back to Korea, dropped by the office the other day to say hello. He said it in Hungarian.

We answered him in perfect English and then, through a pretty Hungarian girl who served as interpreter, he told a story of dislocation that is hard to top.

It started at a little place named On Can Li far above the 38th parallel in Korea in November of 1950. General MacArthur's United Nations forces were moving swiftly toward the Yalu. The North Korean armies were offering only token resistance, though now and then they made a stand. One of these was at On Can Li, the hometown of Zang Gi Hong, a North Korean private.

U. S. planes gave them a hard time, then a South Korean division struck. Zang Gi Hong was wounded in the leg and taken north. In a hospital near the Manchurian border, as the Red Chinese swarmed down and pushed back the MacArthur forces, somebody unraveled enough red tape to discover that Zang Gi Hong was an embryo chemical engineer.

In 1954 he and about 200 other young North Koreans were peremptorily told they had "won scholarships." They were shipped off to various parts of the Communist world for further training.

Zang Gi Hong wound up at Budapest Technical University, living in a dormitory filled with boys from Poland, Bulgaria, Rumania, Albania and other satellites. He overcame the colossal language barrier, for the textbooks and lectures were all in Hungarian, and settled down to live under Communism in another part of the world.

Zang Gi Hong had long experienced a deep-seated but difficult to pin-point suspicion of Communism. But there was no chance to express it until just a year ago when the fight for freedom in Hungary fanned to a flame among the students. In one wild hour the placid young men from the satellites were armed with guns turned out by the famous arms works at Csepel, and were in the streets.

Zang Gi Hong found himself a leader for the simple reason that he was about the only student in his dormitory who knew anything about the weapons.

He organized street barricades, window snipers, a system of combatting the Russian tanks — when they'd come. It was training he had received from Russian instructors in North Korea.

But in time he, as did many others, had to flee or join the 30,000 Hungarians who gave up their lives to the cause.

It took the international rescue committee 11 months to get the Korean to this country. After a "crash" course in English he'll resume his training as a civil engineer and return to Korea. "South Korea, that is," his interpreter said with a sigh of relief. (Distributed By INS)

ED FITZHUGH

Clothes Can Make A Man—Ridiculous

It was right there in the paper the other day, in a piece about men's fashions. It said this is the year of the natural silhouette. And when it comes to natural silhouettes, who has a better right to kick and scream than the man who hasn't got one?

Take me, for instance. You put my silhouette on a screen in black and white, and it will look like one of the lines you get on a television set when the tuning's bad.

Well, sir, let's take a look at the problems this decree creates. On the personal side, I don't mind the disappearance of the shoulder pads, on account of I never did like to have those things hanging out three feet beyond my operating range. The only good shoulder pads ever were to me was for use as makeshift umbrellas when it was necessary to shelter some stray dog or other from a sudden rain. They aren't stiff enough to fly with, even if a man had the motor for it.

This idea of having fewer buttons on your coats, though, is an other thing entirely. As it is right now, on a man as long as I am, there is enough distance between the old number of buttons to let in an awful lot of wind when a blizzard's blowing. Cut down the number of buttons any more, and we skinny guys won't dare shrug our shoulders for fear of coming completely into public view. As far as we're concerned, buttons aren't style, they're to hold things together.

As far as we skinny ones are concerned, the Ivy League look is for them that like it. We're strictly the Caribbean type, and if our womenfolk would stand for it, we'd like nothing better than pirate sashes around our spindly waists, broad strips running crossways on bell-bottom trousers, and a couple of ostrich plumes stuck jauntily in cocked hats.

The impression would be one of bulk. And if anybody ever looked underneath, well — it wouldn't be any worse than getting caught out in a shower is now. Those are risks a skinny man has got to take.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Who's Afraid Of A Big Bad Calorie?

By MONA B. PARKER

There are those who make loud critical noises about the "selfish" farmer who sees fit, come hunting season, to post no-trespassing signs on his property. The Norman Kjar of Loomis could tell anyone why, if such inquirer cared to listen.

Although the uninvited were well informed by such signs on the Kjar acres, the farm folks had to sacrifice a flock of tame ducks on a pond that is out of sight of the house. The greater loss was the 400-pound steer that fell, also, victim of a careless, trigger-happy and not too bright gun-toter. It would have helped a great deal, the Kjars explained, if they had been informed and the animal could have been butchered. But the over-eager hunter apparently was possessed of the same instincts as the hit-and-run driver ...

The Aurora News-Register reminds its woods-bound readers of what new state law has to say on the matter of shooting another hunter. Such action takes from anyone the right even to purchase a license for 10 years ...

Warren Wood is getting set to put up a fair-sized clamor out in Gering and is sure that others will follow his lead if the rumor now going around is true. It is to the effect that "good old Uncle Sam" is figuring on cutting all postal service on Saturdays. All day, that is.

Mr. Wood didn't mind too much the Saturday afternoon closing as an economy measure, "but cutting local and rural route service on Saturday is a bird of a lousy feather."

If such an all-day cutback should come about, "Congress will hear yowls from the agricultural Middle West the likes of which have not been recorded."

Urban Renewal

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In a recent editorial you said: "The people of Lincoln have no desire to be meeting federal regulations just for the heck of it. Perfection as may be represented by federal standards is a fine thing, but it is not necessarily worth what it might cost." Let us go on from there.

We have been assured that our present housing ordinance, which is connected with the urban renewal law, is not stringent enough to qualify Lincoln for federal aid. Though no two letters from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency read alike, we are made to understand that the federal people expect the following standards to be met:

All basement apartments closed. Window area in living rooms equal one-tenth of floor area. At least one window in every living room. Fifty square feet of floor space for each occupant of sleeping rooms. A sink in every room used, no matter how briefly, for light housekeeping. A complete bath for every apartment.

As you point out, these standards may be fine. But we maintain that they are not necessary, that they would cost too much, that to make them into law would work a cruel hardship on people of low and middle incomes. No scientific study has demonstrated that these standards are essential.

Nobody can prove that people who live modestly are less healthy or less moral than those who live in the luxury indicated by these standards.

Many Lincoln residents who have studied this problem conclude that the tightened housing ordinance and federal aid are being promoted by a small group of men who wish to erect some beautiful and expensive apartment houses and force people to rent apartments by closing low-cost apartments. In the same breath they tell us that federal aid will solve our money and tax problems, and the new laws will not hurt anybody.

We submit that the entire urban renewal plan is government by authority, with complete subordination of the individual to the state. There is no justification for any such drastic measure in this town.

Watch it, fellow townsmen! Watch the new charter. Watch the special election. Do not be deceived by promises of easy money or an easy solution to city problems. Inform yourselves as to what may be involved in suave verbal promises. Don't sell your birthright of American liberty for something less than a bowl of beans.

are experimenting with several comparatively new crops for the region. Soybeans seem near to harvest time, but those checking grain sorghum fields wonder. Some with just a small acreage are chopping stalk and all and using it for feed.

Stories on the pride and prowess of the Lone Star state would seem to come to us by way of sunny California, if a story about a Grand Island woman's visit in the West is any indication ...

When Mrs. Gilbert Alfreds exclaimed about the big grapefruit, she was told: "Those are lemons."

When she remarked about the size of the large watermelons, she was informed: "Those are gooseberries."

Excitement about the red apples

she saw brought the explanation: "Those are cranberries."

Enough was enough, even for a Nebraska.

When they reached a river, Mrs. Alfreds was ready.

"Someone's radiator must be leaking," she commented.

In the tearing-down process in an old house in Ravenna, an issue of Collier's Magazine dated 1902 was found inside one of the walls. A comparing of prices over a 55-year span was interesting. A single barrel shotgun could be had for $3.98, a bicycle for the price of $50, a bicycle kicked the budget for only $8.95, men's dress hats brought the remarkable return of 50 cents, and a fancy buggy was offered for $49 ...

caused by insects which bred in marshy places. But not until 60 years ago did the world learn how the malaria parasite which had already been identified in the human blood stream came to be there, and how it was transmitted from one person to the other.

It became apparent that the parasite could not be exterminated, so the mosquito must be destroyed. But how? There are some 50 kinds of anopheles and they have been found over most of the world.

Drainage works were possible, but prohibitively expensive in most cases. Other larvicidal methods proved unsatisfactory. The importation of Gambusia, the little fresh water fish that live on mosquito larvae, proved effective only under special conditions.

Thus at the end of World War II there were still an estimated 300,000,000 cases of malaria every year and about 3,000,000 victims died annually.

An apparently insignificant, almost absurd, fact made it possible for the nations of the world to launch the successful campaign. This was the discovery of the fact that the female anopheles needed a nap after each meal and usually took it on the walls of the house in which she had fed.

With the then new group of effective, long-lasting insecticides such as DDT, BAC and Dieldrin, authorities went to work in and around houses of the persons exposed to the bite of the anopheles mosquito.

It was the Romans who first suspected that the disease was

GIFTS TO MAMIE: FURS, PINK POTHOLDER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower held a special White House session for photographers Monday and posed with two gifts—a new beaver coat and a pink potholder.

The coat was made from 17 pelts given her by Maine fur trappers, who hope that by wearing it she will boost their slumping beaver trade.

The potholder, in Mamie's favorite color, was made by 7-year-old Jeanne Naspo of Montclair, N.J., "the arthritic child of the year," who gave it to Mrs. Eisenhower to launch a nationwide November campaign of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Worth $1,800

The showing of the coat, a three-quarter model with rolled cuff sleeves, valued by the gift givers at about $1,800, came at a time when Washington is amid new discussions about official gift-taking.

The White House carefully pointed out that Mrs. Eisenhower had received only the 17 pelts as a gift from the fur trappers of Maine and the Maine Trappers Assn., a group of some 350 trappers. Mrs. Eisenhower paid $385 to have the pelts made into the coat.

Jasper Haynes and Archie Clark of Millinocket, Maine, who came to represent the fur trappers, said Mrs. Eisenhower had first turned down their gift offer.

But, Haynes said, she changed her mind after he sent her an appeal written on birch bark, saying the Maine beaver business was "terrible" because most ladies "aren't wearing fur coats" and there is great competition from other furs and synthetics.

Hughes Leaves Highway Dept.

Charles E. Hughes, 29, an assistant attorney with the State Highway Department, plans to leave that post Nov. 5 to open a law office in Imperial.

A University of Nebraska graduate, he is a first lieutenant in the Nebraska Air National Guard and an Army veteran.

The son of Mrs. Mae Hughes of Lincoln, he is married to the former Jacqueline Lee of Brownlee and they have two children.

Hughes said he "enjoyed my associations with the Highway Department engineers" and "have a deep respect for these highway experts who are trying desperately to provide the state with an adequate highway system."

Hughes belongs to the state and county Bar Assn., Masonic Lodge, Jaycees, Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity and Kappa Sigma.

Born of more Aircraft Principles than any other car yet built

HERE—coming to you from the freshest blueprints in years —is a car built to make your driving as modern as your thinking.

This one's built with more aviation principles throughout than any car before.

There's a greater use of airweight aluminum in its form and structure — in its engine — in its styling — even in its quick-cooling brakes.

There's an air-borne feeling of flight in its performance with Buick's B-12000 engine and with Flight Pitch Dynaflo* that can switch the pitch a million ways.

And everywhere you go — you travel in new skyway comfort with Buick's Miracle Ride plus Air-Poise Suspension.*

So this is a car of truly exciting ideas for 1958—the Air Born B-58 Buick. And you should see it and drive it at your Buick dealer's soon. Come on in today.

*Flight Pitch Dynaflo standard on LIMITED and ROADMASTER 75, optional at extra cost on other Series. Air-Poise Suspension optional at extra cost on all Series.

ALL IN ONE YEAR— ALL IN THIS BIG, BUOYANT BUICK

Flight Pitch Dynaflo* — Lets you switch the pitch a million ways for exact power, delivery at every phase of travel—gives smooth, instant response.

B-12000 Engine—Up to 10 to 1 in compression, and with 12,000 pounds of thrust behind every piston's power stroke. Most modern engine possible to build for today's fuels.

Miracle Ride plus Buick Air-Poise Suspension*— You ride on four self-levelizing columns of compressed air—stay on a constant level, regardless of passenger load or road conditions.

Sparkling Fresh Styling — From wide-sweeping Dyna-star Grille to steeped tail towers, this is the bold face of fashion for '58.

Air-Cooled Aluminum Brakes—Heavier-lined, extra-powerful brakes with 45 radial fins that fan in cooling air. Smoother, more positive braking and longer lining-life. (Standard on most models.)

Magnificent Changes Through and Through — "Velvet wall" sound silencing, hidden exhausts, center-of-percussion vibration control, ball-joint handling—plus many others!

When better automobiles are built Buick will build them

Flu Hits Lincoln Adults; Closes 3 State Schools

By HARRIET ASHLEY
Star Staff Writer

In Lincoln the flu seemed to be shifting to adults Thursday, but it closed schools at Polk and Stromsburg and Nemaha High Schools because of student and teacher absences.

Fifty per cent of the Polk High School students were absent with the flu Thursday, Superintendent Loren Kneeland said. At Stromsburg, Superintendent W. R. French said 35 per cent of 440 students and three teachers were absent because of the flu. Nemaha High School reported an estimated 50 per cent absences.

In Lincoln all Catholic schools were expected to open Monday, Msgr. Jerome Murray, Diocesan Superintendent said. St. Patrick's, Blessed Sacrament and Sacred Heart have been closed for several days.

Closed Anyway
Friday is All Saints Day, a scheduled Holy Day for which all Catholic schools will be closed.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. had 7.4 per cent of its employees home with the flu Thursday, including 12 long-distance operators, according to Vice President Merle Hale. This was an increase of seven employees since Wednesday.

Sears Roebuck officials reported 10 per cent of the 120-member staff was absent Thursday and Cushman Motors have had 29 persons absent for the past three days.

Will Strike Adults
Dr. George Underwood, director of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department, said he expected that more adults would be stricken with flu in the next two weeks, particularly as soon as the weather turns cold.

The Lincoln Public Schools were also feeling the pressure of flu absences among teachers. There were nearly 7.5 per cent of the 961 teachers out Thursday, but only five schools reported student absences exceeding 20 per cent.

Dr. Steven Watkins, superintendent of schools, said that if the flu outbreak increases among the teachers it will be felt mostly in the smaller schools because adjustment can be made in the larger schools.

20 Per Cent Out
Lincoln Public Schools reporting more than 20 per cent of the students absent Thursday were Belmont, 22; Capitol and Clinton, 20; Elliott, 22.2, and Havelock, 20.7. University High School reopened Thursday with only 35 of the 265 students absent, and school officials said they expected the school would remain open.

At Union College and Nebraska Wesleyan absences were nearly normal.

The University of Nebraska reported 122 flu cases Thursday, compared with 133 Wednesday and 229 a week ago.

2 AF Sergeants Held In Forgery Of U.S. Checks

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Secret Service Thursday announced the arrest of two Air Force sergeants accused of forging more than 400 government checks for over $100,000.

Secret Service chief U. E. Baughman said the "large-scale fraud" involved payrolls of servicemen returning from overseas to Parks Air Force Base, Calif.

Under arrest are T-Sgt. Theodore Barry and S-Sgt. Charles A. Evans. Auditors from the general accounting office are auditing some 400,000 checks issued at Parks Air Force Base during the time Evans and Barry were stationed there.

According to the Secret Service, Evans was one of the chief non-commissioned officers in the Parks Finance Office from October, 1955, to November, 1956.

The Secret Service said that Evans told of taking, at first, only a few checks which could not be delivered and made a deal with Barry to cash them.

Cost Of Search For Disc Jockey $15,000—Officer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Coast Guard said Thursday the cost of its search for Melvin West, ocean going disc jockey, was about $15,000—not the $300,000 figure originally attributed to the service.

Rear Adm. Harold C. Moore, commander of the 5th Coast Guard District, released the estimate at his office here. He said he had "no idea" of how the $300,000 figure was arrived at and said it was "not by any stretch of the imagination what we consider the cost to be."

West, from Morehead City, N.C., tried to sail from there to Bermuda in a 15-foot boat, a distance of 580 miles. He was picked up Monday by a Coast Guard cutter at a point 160 miles from his destination and taken to Bermuda. West had run out of gas.

The 5th Coast Guard District had authorized a search for West, Oct. 20 and it lasted one day. West was located by a freighter Oct. 21 and the search was called off. West then continued his attempt to reach Bermuda.

Ike And Mamie Leave Today For West Point Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower leave Friday on a sentimental journey back to West Point.

They are flying up to join other members of the President's class of 1915 at the U.S. Military Academy in presenting a drinking fountain to the school and to take in the Army-Colgate football game. These events will be on Saturday.

The President and first lady are leaving here at 2:15 p.m., EST, Friday and flying to Stewart Field near West Point. Nothing is planned for Friday night other than a small, quiet dinner in their suite at the Thayer Hotel on the academy grounds.

350-Pound Bronze Church Bell Stolen

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — The Rev. A. N. Neher, pastor of the Westview Baptist Church, hopes it was just an adult Halloween prank, but nevertheless he told police Thursday that five men stole the church's bell.

He said the 350-pound bronze bell had been lowered from the belfry for cleaning and that as he watched five men picked up the bell put it in their old car and drove away.

58 FORD COMING NOV. 7
Nothing newer in the world
THE NEW INTERCEPTOR V-8
WITH PRECISION FUEL INDUCTION
FOR GREATER ECONOMY... GREATER POWER FROM TODAY'S MODERN FUELS
What is Precision Fuel Induction?
It's a completely new induction system that wrings extra power from your gasoline—gives you more miles from every gallon! It starts with a carburetor that meters fuel precisely and mixes it with air in exact proportions. Next, a new manifold system zooms the fuel-air charges more uniformly to new wedge-shaped combustion chambers. These chambers have been machined to equal volume so you get more even power output from each cylinder... take advantage of the high compression needed to squeeze the utmost power from today's fuels. Precision Fuel Induction is one of the greatest advances in V-8 design since the original Ford V-8.
When the fuel-air mixture must travel a long, wandering route from carburetor to combustion chambers, an automobile's engine simply can't deliver its full power.
In the new Ford Interceptor V-8 engine for 1958, it's another story.
Ford engineers have designed a new Precision Fuel Induction system for more efficient fuel delivery. Think of it as an express superhighway with eight big, one-way lanes. Fuel-air traffic flows more evenly and freely to deliver the most powerful charge possible to each combustion chamber.
The combustion chambers are machined to equal volume for more even power output, and for full use of the high compression necessary to extract top power from today's fuels.
And there's much more to the Interceptor V-8 story. For example, it delivers its maximum wheel-turning thrust at ordinary, everyday driving speeds... right where you need it most. This high performance at low engine rpm's cuts friction that causes wear... saves on gas, too. And you get new, more spirited "go" that will make all of your driving a lot more fun in 58.
In addition, after every Ford-built V-8 is assembled, it's electronically balanced while running under its own power. You get an engine that is the full equivalent in smoothness to the most expensive engines built. Yet it's yours in a new Ford for 1958 at a low, low Ford price!
When you command one of Ford's three new Interceptor V-8's, horsepower figures become as meaningless to you as they are to the owner of a Rolls-Royce. But, for the mechanically minded, here are some figures: The 352-cu. in. Interceptor Special V-8 with its new 4-barrel carburetor delivers 300 horsepower at a modest 4,600 rpm—395 pounds-feet of torque at 2,800 rpm.
We urge you to try a new Interceptor with the most important V-8 advance in 25 years... the only engine that comes to you already proved by a blistering run around the world! It will be waiting for you at your Ford Dealer's on November 7th.

Russians Given Full Credit By Harvard Scientist

CHICAGO (AP)—A Harvard expert on Russian education said Thursday "the cricket-like sound of the beeping satellite... ripped to shreds some of the face-saving pooh-poohs" at Soviet accomplishments in scientific training.

Nicholas DeWitt told a conference on engineering and scientific training in a prepared speech:

"There is a busy search for a scapegoat... but there is no one to blame for what the Russians do save the Russians themselves."

The conference was called by the U.S. government's National Science Foundation and a group of professional organizations to recommend ways to expand American technical education, which many scientists feel is at a dangerously low level.

Better Training Base

DeWitt, director of Harvard's Russian Research Center, said the Russians "have a better and wider base" at the high school level to promote higher scientific training and that at the university level Soviet training "compares favorably with our training and, in the opinion of some experts, may be somewhat superior."

"Leadership is an expensive proposition," he added, "but the Russians, willingly or not, are paying the price of sacrifice. If we are to preserve our leadership, we cannot neglect the best in education for our youth. In this education science is an indispensable part."

Americans long downgraded Soviet scientific accomplishments, DeWitt said, but then came a display of modern Russian weapons "too much to be explained solely by Soviet reliance on captured German brains and stolen secrets."

Trend Reversed

"The cold war of the classroom was suddenly in the spotlight," he said, only to give way again to "anything they can do we can do better." The satellite, he continued, reversed the trend again.

"The Russians are not playing hide and seek," DeWitt said. "They are dead earnest in their ultimate objective that, if not today or tomorrow, then in a decade or a generation or two hence their absolute technical, economic and military supremacy will triumph."

Homecoming Floats Readied For NU Parade

Dewey: Nixon Is 'Superb'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York said with a show of enthusiasm Thursday he thinks Vice President Nixon would make a "superb" Republican candidate for President in 1960.

Dewey, twice the GOP presidential nominee, told an informal news conference in the White House lobby after an hour's talk with President Eisenhower he was "an empty barrel" when it came to commenting on his meeting with the President.

He twice returned a "no comment" answer when asked if he had been approached about an appointment to the five-member study commission created by the civil rights bill passed in the last session of congress. Eisenhower has said he is having difficulty in getting the appointees he wants.

Too Early

Asked whom he favors for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, Dewey replied it was too early for him to pick any particular candidate.

When a reporter asked if he thought Nixon would make a good candidate, the former governor replied crisply: "Certainly, superb."

Asked if there was a chance he himself might seek the presidential nomination again in 1960, he replied:

No War Seen

LEEDS, England (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad predicted there would be no war and that current East-West tensions would end in a Western triumph.

"I am confident we are going to win the battle in which we have been engaged for the last several years and I am confident it will be won without a war," said the supreme commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Norstad is here to address a local group.

Truman Offers To Campaign For California's Brown

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Truman came to town Thursday for a talk Friday at the Democrats' annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

He told newsmen at Union Depot that he would, if asked, return to campaign for Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, who announced his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

TEAMSTERS BOARD REJECTS CLEAN-UP

... Inviting Ouster From AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (AP)—The executive board of the Teamsters Union decided unanimously Thursday against doing anything about corruption charges against its leaders—a course practically guaranteeing AFL-CIO expulsion.

Retiring Teamsters President Dave Beck said the board voted to appeal a recent AFL-CIO suspension order and seek to fight off outright expulsion at the federation's convention Dec. 5 at Atlantic City, N.J.

Beck said the Teamsters bosses have no thought of kicking out President-Elect James R. Hoffa or otherwise ridding their ranks of alleged corrupt influences as ordered by the AFL-CIO Council.

Go It Alone

Moreover, Beck said he really expects the appeal to the AFL-CIO convention to fail. He said the Teamsters are ready to go it alone, if that's what the AFL-CIO wants.

Beck's attitude was that it's up to the courts solely, and not to unions, to punish any corrupt labor bosses. His trial for alleged evasion of more than $250,000 in federal income taxes has been put over until next April.

Hoffa goes to trial in New York Monday on charges of lying to a federal grand jury.

Local's Picketing Illegal

In another development, the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) ruled against a Teamsters local in holding that a union supported by a minority of a company's employees violates the Taft-Hartley Law by picketing for recognition as exclusive bargaining agent.

The case involved Teamsters Local 639 and Curtis Bros., Inc., a Washington, D.C., furniture and storage firm.

The union was chosen representative of the Curtis drivers, warehousemen and furniture finishers in 1953 by a 15-5 vote. Two years later, following a strike, the company's employees voted 28-1 against the union, but picketing for recognition was continued by the local for several months.

Bank Clearings Here for '57 Up $20 Million

Lincoln bank clearings increased $20,262,177.57 for the first ten months of 1957 compared with the corresponding period last year.

The Jan. 1-Oct. 31 totals:

1957—$435,836,245.27

1956—415,574,067.70

A gain of $1,303,159.79 was shown in the October, 1957 clearings compared with the same month last year.

The comparative figures:

Oct. '57—$42,563,062.22

Oct. '56—41,259,902.43

Clearings in September, this year, totaled $42,552,296.24.

SEVERANCE TAX REVENUE DIPS

Severance taxes on oil and natural gas brought in $101,887 during October, on September production, compared with $104,805 the previous month and $74,638 a year ago.

Division Chief Elmer G. Watkins also said 1,697,561 barrels of oil were pumped in September, compared with 1,739,384 in August and 1,354,127 in September, 1956.

Spray Products Firm Files Incorporation

Reynolds Distributing Co. of Lincoln, formed to deal at wholesale or retail with spray products, filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state.

Robert W. Reynolds, Lloyd E. Barratt and Hugo Srb are incorporators. Srb said the product to be handled is a spray shoe polish. Authorized capitalization is $25,000.

3 KANSANS DIE IN PLANE CRASH

MARIAN, Ind. (INS)—Three persons were killed Thursday when their private plane crashed on a farm near the Marion Airport.

The victims were identified as Glen Roy Dodson, 63, head of a Wichita, Kan., implement company; his wife, Miriam, 60, and the pilot, Donald LeRoy Mitchell, 32, also of Wichita.

The airport reported a ceiling of nearly zero and said pilots had been warned away from the field.

Engineers' Group To Hear Stoddard, Former Nebraskan

James P. Stoddard of Linden, N. J., design engineer on the refinery technical staff for Esso Standard Oil Co., will speak at the annual convocation of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering society at the University of Nebraska, at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the Stuart Theater.

The public may attend.

Born in Grand Island, Stoddard was graduated from Lincoln High School in 1939 and received a B. S. Degree in chemical engineering from the University of Nebraska in 1951.

State To Supply 58 For U.S. Army

The deputy state Selective Service director, Francis S. Drath, reported that Nebraska draft boards are being asked to supply 58 men for induction into the Army in December.

The national call, the same as for the two previous months, is for 7,000 Army inductees. Nebraska was asked for 60 men in each of the previous two months.

Ex-Senator Gerry, 78, Brother Die

DELHI, N.Y. (AP)—Robert L. Gerry, millionaire real estate developer, died here Thursday a few hours after his brother, former U.S. Sen. Peter G. Gerry, died in Providence, R.I.

Robert Gerry, about 81, died Thursday afternoon at his estate, Akusti, on Lake Delaware, about 10 miles outside this Catskill Mountain village.

Peter Gerry, 78, died Thursday morning at his home in Providence.

Both had been in failing health for several years.

Robert Gerry's widow, Cornelia, is a sister of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York.

Since Revolution

The Gerry family had been prominent since the American revolution. The great-grandfather of Peter and Robert, Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts, signed the Declaration of Independence and was vice president under President Madison.

The political expression "Gerry-mander"—meaning to divide a political district in a way to give one party an advantage—was derived from Elbridge Gerry's name when he was governor of Massachusetts.

Peter Gerry served in the U.S. Senate from 1918 to 1928 and again from 1935 to 1946.

Wedding On Thursday

MRS. NORMAN BRETHOUWER

Three hundred invitations were issued for the wedding of Miss Karen Ruth Krueger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Krueger, and Norman Robert Brethouwer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Norman A. Brethouwer of Montrose, Colo., which took place on Thursday evening, Oct. 31, at St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church. The Rev. Arthur Crisp solemnized the 8 o'clock service, and Mrs. Henry Sengstake, who played the wedding music, also accompanied the vocal soloist, Mrs. LeRoy Butcher.

Waltz-length frocks of turquoise blue satin were chosen for the attendants, including Miss Naralie Zlot, the maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Geraldine Brethouwer of Montrose, Colo., and Miss Barbara Hoeman. Their crescent bouquets were fashioned of fuji chrysanthemums, in shades of THERE'S more news of the week-end this morning—more guests, more parties—more everything—Just heard, for instance, that Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Heath (Gerdi Hord) will be coming from Lakeside for the Homecoming festivities and game—and that also on deck will be Miss Gretchen Winkler—former coed and Pi Phi at Nebraska—who will be arriving from Kansas City where she is based as an Air Line stewardess, and Bill Martin who will accompany Miss Winkler to Lincoln for the game.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Miss Winkler and Mr. Martin will be complimented by Mr. and Mrs. Ron Clark who will entertain at dinner at their home. Included in the guest list, also, will be Mr. and Mrs. Tom Larsen (Jane Bergquist) who recently have returned to Lincoln to reside.

AND mention of Mr. and Mrs. Larsen reminds us that they are to be host and hostess at a post-game party at their home on Saturday evening—On hand for the "bring-your-own-steak" barbecue will be Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Haupt (Marie Louis Nichols), Mr. and

BRIDES

Announcing the members of her bridal party this morning is Miss Arlene Korell whose marriage to John Edward Delisi will be an event of Saturday, Nov. 16.

Miss Judith Korell has been named as her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Georgia Vogel, Miss JoAnn Delisi, cousin of the bridegroom-elect, and Miss Carolyn Wertz. Miss Susan Weideman, also a cousin of the bride-to-be, will be the flower girl.

Serving his brother as best man will be August Delisi Jr., and seating the guests for the 11:30 o'clock ceremony, which is to be solemnized at St. Mary's Cathedral, will be Sam Delisi, James Delisi, and Robert Delisi, the bridegroom's brothers, Milton Barry and Robert Hatzenduehler.

Among the recent pre-nuptial courtesies for Miss Korell was a dessert luncheon and grocery shower given by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. August Delisi Jr. The affair was held at the St. Christopher Columbus Club House on Sunday, Oct. 27.

Mrs. John Korell entertained for her daughter on Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, at a dessert supper and miscellaneous shower held at the American Forward Hall. The guest list included 125 family members and friends.

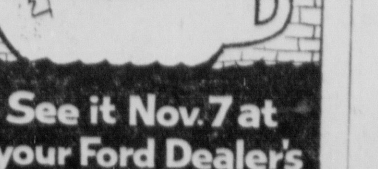

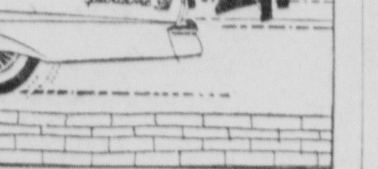

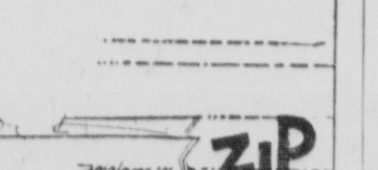

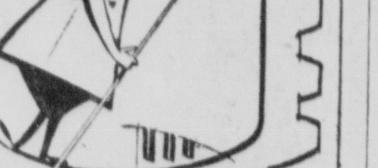

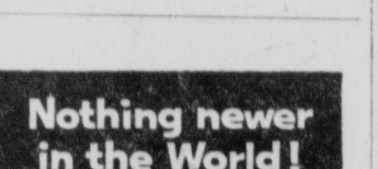

On Sunday afternoon, Sept. 29, Miss Korell's bridal attendants were hostesses to 25 guests at a dessert luncheon given at the St. Christopher Columbus Club House for the bride-elect. During the informal afternoon a kitchen shower was presented to the honoree.

Auburn Party

The first party of the season for the ladies of the Frank H. Woods Chapter, Independent Telephone Pioneer Association, was held at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at the Auburn Hotel in Auburn.

More than 30 Lincoln members attended and made the trip by chartered bus to Auburn. In charge of arrangements for the party was Vivian Kinghorn of Auburn.

Nothing newer in the World!

Mrs. Jack von Gillern and Mr. and Mrs. Roger von Gillern. Joining the group later for an informal evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Heath, Miss Winkler and Mr. Martin.

OTHER guests from Kansas City who plan to be in town for the game week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Don DuTeau who will be the house guests of Mr. DuTeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin DuTeau.

KANSAS will be well represented in the week-end guest list at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gil

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

One will be king—and one will be queen this evening when the Pius X Homecoming King and Queen will be announced at half time during the high school's game with Hebron.

By CAROL ZAJIC

The atmosphere at Pius X is tense and full of excitement because this Friday night is Homecoming. During this week four girls and four boys, whose pictures are seen above, were revealed as the candidates for Homecoming King and Queen. The identity of the king and queen will be known this evening when, during half-time, at the Pius X-Hebron game, they will be presented and crowned—and will reign during the Homecoming Dance. Candidates also have been announced for the King's and the Queen's attendants, and they also will be presented this evening.

Ten senior girls, representing Pius-X, attended the annual mock United Nations meeting at Duchesne College in Omaha. The group included Pat McMahon, Nancy O'Connell, Kathy Payne, Joan Schammel, Sharyn Penner, Janet Larsen, Ann Hauschild, Rosemarie Dlouhy and Phyllis Dodge. This year Pius X spoke are the candidates for the Homecoming honors—Miss Chris Lococo, Joe McWilliams, Miss Janet Hoeppner, Don Thompson, Miss Carol Zajic, Dave Higgins, Miss Donna Breitfelder and Don Houser.

In the interest of Syria.

Since this week was proclaimed "Catholic Youth Week" by Gov. Victor Anderson, the students at Pius X presented a panel discussion at convocation on Wednesday afternoon, pointing out to the faculty and the students what Catholic Youth Week is, and how it was started.

On Monday afternoon members of the cast for the first junior class play, "Cheaper By the Dozen," were chosen. The leading roles went to Pat Dean, Bill Grimm, John Biggs, Kathy Payne, Mary Ann Gude, Mary Ahlgren and Pat Melby. Janet Larsen was chosen as student director of the play.

FLASH—a new way to simplify blind dates is the "fix-up" file. Girls keep wallet albums of their girl friends pictures with statistics on interested listed on the back for the benefit of inquiring boys.

Haase—Included in the group will be Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. James Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Miller, all of Sterling, Kan.; and Lt. (JG) and Mrs. James Koci of Olathe, Kan.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Haase will entertain at a pizza buffet supper at their home in courtesy to the visitors, and on Saturday evening the group, augmented by four Lincoln couples, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Haase, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Stromer, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Wassung and Mr. and Mrs.

Bob McCormack have plans for dinner and dancing at the Ranch House.

The out-of-towners will be honored on Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Ted Haase of Denton entertain at a smorgasbord brunch at their home.

SATURDAY night is dinner dance night for the members of the "Terpsichorean Club, so we hear—and making plans for the "Harvest Party" is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Fisher, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Essman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hammonds, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kettleon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Way.

The club's new members this season include Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Keiser and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sallee.

SOMEONE told us that Whitney Martin, Associated Press sports columnist, arrived at mid-week for a Wednesday-to-Sunday stay as the guest of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

The end of October is a particularly fun time what with all the holiday festivities, autumn parties and such, and in South Hills and Kessler Heights the residents are as busy as ever with their social highlights of the month. Costume parties, birthday celebrations, luncheons and house guests are among the newnotes from the suburbs this Friday morning.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

One of last week's events in Kessler Heights was the Halloween party given by Benny Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson, who was host to a group of his neighborhood friends on Friday evening. Guests on hand for the festive affair were Joey Mahaffy, Johnny Mahaffy, Kathy Mahaffy, Julia Anne Schanaman, Johnny Minick, Henry Peerman, Gregg Holdren, Chris Holdren, Connie Peterson and Merle Peterson.

And another kiddie-party in the suburb took place on Wednesday evening when the hostess was Miss Nancy Lohrborg who entertained at a combination Halloween-birthday party in celebration of her fifth anniversary. Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lohrborg were host and hostess to seven of their daughter's friends, including Marty May, Jacque Klappal, Suzanne and Tommy Simmerman, Jan Thompson and Susan and Johnny Lohrborg.

Visiting in the suburb last week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Ehdn Saathoff of Sumner, who were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cherry and their children, Marcie and Brenda. On Sunday the Cherrys and their house guests were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Leist.

Also included in our guest list this week are Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Clark who traveled to Lincoln from their home in Nebraska City on Monday for a short visit with Mrs. Clark's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sorenson.

SOUTH HILLS

Had fun chatting with Mrs. Lyle Knight this ayem as there seems to be plenty to do out and about her South Hills' home. First of all we learned that Mrs. Knight's mother and sister, Mrs.

Nixon May Be Target Of Resettlement Group

ATLANTA (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon appeared Thursday to be the first target of the American Resettlement Foundation, organized to move Georgia Negro families into exclusive neighborhoods of Northern cities.

State Rep. A. A. Fowler of Douglas, founder of the organization, has said the foundation has obtained an option on a house in an exclusive all-white section of a large northern city.

He did not identify the city, but the Augusta Herald said it had learned the house is near Nixon's home in Washington, D.C.

"Good Candidate" Fowler declined to comment on the Herald story. But State Welfare Director Alan Kemper, a charter member of the foundation, said: "I would say Nixon is a pretty good candidate."

The Washington Evening Star said a check of all homes for sale in the Wesley Heights area where Nixon lives produced nothing to back up the story. Nixon could not be reached for comment.

Chance To Practice Fowler attended a meeting of Georgia peace officers in Augusta this week and was quoted by Augusta newspapers as saying the project would give one of the country's leading exponents of integration a chance to "practice some of the mixing he has been preaching to the people of Georgia and the South."

Powerless Chaos Hits Minnesota

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The machine age slipped a gear and left southern Minnesota in a powerless chaos for two hours Thursday.

An explosion-caused power failure at a big generating plant south of here sowed disorder into business, farming, schooling and other routine from Minneapolis and St. Paul to near the South Dakota border.

Factories stopped working. Business machines stood silent. Traffic semaphores were blank as motorists inched through intersections.

In some hospitals teams of attendants carried patients from floor to floor by litter when elevators stopped operating. Emergency power plants were put to use to keep the hospitals' vital functions going.

Delayed Television and radio stations went off the air and newspaper publication was delayed in many communities. Students studied by candlelight in some schools.

To youngsters preparing for Halloween, it brought an early morning eeriness many believed was somehow connected with witching time.

The disruption was taken in good-humored stride by most, but its impact started hitting hundreds of pocketbooks as the day wore on. Heating supply companies were flooded with calls from residents whose furnaces had burned out. Reports of damage to other household appliances were numerous.

Company officials said a "bus bar" joining the transmission and generating systems at the firm's Black Dog power plant blew up at 8:35 a.m., CST. No one was injured.

DAG WILL TRY HAND

... Mideast Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Syria and Turkey were understood to have agreed Thursday night to a plan whereby U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld would use his powers under the charter to ease tension between them in the Middle East.

Hammarskjöld also was said to have agreed to the plan. The arrangement was worked out by Norwegian Delegate Hans Engen and Japanese Delegate Koto Madsudaira in talks with all parties.

The United States was reported to have played a part in the negotiations. Under the arrangement, neither of the two resolutions now pending will be pressed to a vote when the Assembly meets Friday. The Assembly has scheduled debate on Syria's Soviet-supported complaint that Turkey has massed troops on her border for imminent attack and they are threatening world peace.

Hammarskjöld is expected to tell the Assembly that his services are available. His statement, it is understood, will end the often bitter debate.

Research Branch Gets Brass Ring — Pvt. E. Shult

EDGEWOOD, Md. (AP) — It was a military secret just how high or what avenue the bidding took. But the Weapons Research Division grabbed the brass ring — Pvt. Ernest Shult.

It was all part of a good-natured grab at the Army chemical center Thursday for the services of a modest, 24-year-old draftee described by his college professor as "the outstanding mathematical genius I have encountered in 30 years of medical research."

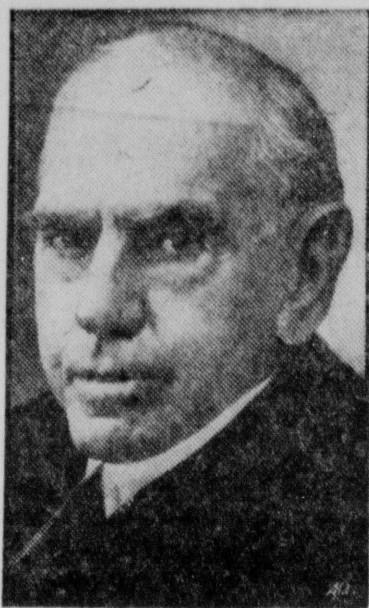

It all started last week when the professor, Dr. Carl C. Lindgren of Southern Illinois University, accused the Army of letting Shult's talents "wither on the vine" by assigning him to a clerk-typist's job at Ft. Lee, Va.

The Army quickly reassigned him to the chemical center here, explaining there was nothing in his record to indicate his potential.

Thursday morning, the various department heads went into a huddle to decide who would get Shult's services. When the conference broke up, the WRD man was wearing the biggest smile.

Shult will work directly under Morton D. Shavit, chief of the mathematics branch of the Weapons research Division. Primarily the young soldier will work in—as the Army put it — "Mathematical statistical research development and methodology required to assess the potential of the chemical warfare weapons system."

EUGENE GRACE

Eugene Grace, 81, Steps Down

... As Steel Leader

NEW YORK (AP) — Eugene G. Grace, one of the titans of the American steel industry, Thursday retired as chairman and chief executive officer of Bethlehem Steel Corp.

Directors of the nation's second largest steel company abolished the office of chairman and designated Arthur B. Homer, president, as the new chief executive officer. Grace, 81, was named honorary chairman. He will remain a director.

Grace went to work for Bethlehem in 1899. He put in 12 hours a day and was paid 15 cents an hour. He operated a crane.

Thirty years later he had become one of the highest paid corporate executives in the country. His annual salary and bonus totaled more than 1½ million dollars.

Grace was graduated from Lehigh University with a degree in engineering. He was the top scholar in his class. He was also an outstanding baseball player. Before joining Bethlehem he turned down what he called a fabulous offer to play professional baseball with the Boston Braves.

Jaycees Announce Annual Voice Of Democracy Meet

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — The annual Voice of Democracy contest for high school students sponsored by the Nebraska Junior Chamber of Commerce was announced Thursday.

The students write and deliver a five-minute talk on the subject: "I Speak for Democracy." In local contests their talks are recorded and the winners' talks are sent to the state contest, which will be judged at the University of Nebraska Sunday, Dec. 8.

The state winner will receive a free trip to Washington, D.C., and the opportunity to compete in the national Voice of Democracy contest. Bill Wood of North Platte is state chairman of the contest.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Baer

Long autumn nights are here and there's nothing like curling up with a good set of alphabetical blocks.

World-wise everything is not all sweetness and light. The reinforced bulletins do not read like Snow White breaking the candy knob on All Baba's cave.

Will a conscientious objector refuse to listen to a beep-beep in the overcast?

What's the Navy going to scrape and paint up there?

Riddle me those and we'll start drilling. Winsome Churchill will fight 'em on the roofs, in the tree tops and on the dark side of the moon.

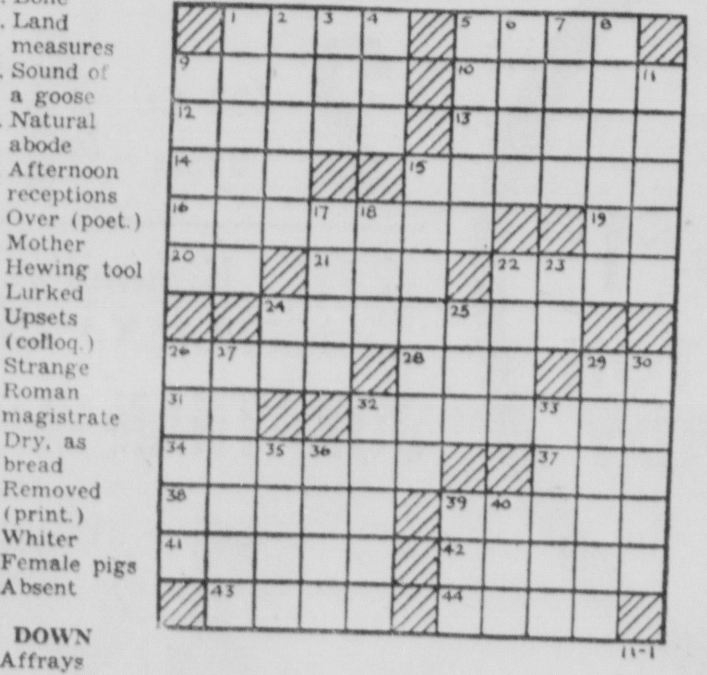

Kindly Judge

TOKYO (INS)—A Tokyo judge sentenced a 47-year-old vagrant to a night in jail, found him waiting outside his chambers the next day. "Judge," the man said, "it was the best night's rest I've had in five years. Could you send me back?" The judge kindly sentenced him to two more nights behind bars.

NU Frosh Get First Grid Test

... Against I-State Today

By RON SPEER
Star Sports Staff Writer

Nebraska's freshman footballers—who have been imitating the "opposition" for the varsity—get their first taste of college competition this afternoon when they meet the Iowa State freshmen.

Kickoff is at 3 p.m. in Memorial Stadium. The Cornhusker youngsters will play without the services of two Nebraska prep stars who were slated for starting positions.

Pat Fisher of Omaha Westside and Dick Place of Nebraska City won't see action today. Fisher was sidelined by the flu and Place injured an ankle during scrimmage.

Frosh Coach Dick Monroe Thursday said he was highly pleased with the spirit of the first-year footballers.

"They have been working real hard this fall, and they are a spirited group of boys," he remarked. "I expect to see some good, hard football out there Friday afternoon."

Iowa State's yearlings will have the edge in experience. The Cyclone youngsters were beaten by Missouri 8-0 in their first outing two weeks ago.

Big Eight Conference rules limit freshmen to two competitive games a year, so the Iowa State team will be playing its last game of the season.

One of the Nebraska players expected to see a lot of action today is Allen Wellman, 205-pound full-back from DeSmet, S. D. Monroe said Thursday that Wellman "had looked good in his play against the varsity."

Ex-Lincoln High star Joe Gacusana will start at right end.

Monroe said most of the freshmen would see action today, regardless of the score, "because I want to find out what the boys can do."

Probable starters:

Nebraska	Wet	Pos.	Wgt.	Iowa St.
Mike Eyer	185	LE	190	C. Dean
Don Laabs	212	LT	200	Goerner
Dick Koster	187	LG	185	Askeford
Tim Barnes	185	C	205	Reher
Don Katoft	205	RG	200	Boles

1,500 Reserve Tickets Left For KU-NU Game

More than 1,500 reserved seats are still available for the Kansas-Nebraska game, the University of Nebraska announced Thursday.

There are also bleacher seats and knothole tickets available for the Cornhuskers' homecoming game with the Jayhawks in NU's Memorial Stadium.

Harvard Wants Game

HARVARD (AP) — The Harvard High School football team suddenly found itself with an open date on its hands and was casting about Thursday for some team to fill in a hurry.

Supt. Arnold Edmiston said Sutton had cancelled its scheduled game with Harvard Friday night because of the flu.

Nebraska's football team is in its best condition of the season—but Star Sports Editor Don Bryant is on the bench with the flu and isn't available to predict the winner of the Husker-Kansas game.

So The Star's reserve crystal ball finally is going to see action. And action galore has been promised for Cornhusker football fans by NU Coach Bill Jennings.

"Chuck Mather will be using every bit of razzle-dazzle he knows, now that he has resigned," Jennings said Thursday. Mather turned in his resignation as Kansas' head coach Wednesday night, although he will continue to pilot the team until the end of the season.

"We'll have to do plenty of scoring to stay in the ball game Saturday," Jennings added.

The substitute crystal has been promised a day off if it bats .300. Although we lack experience, we've got lots of spirit.

Knights, Pius Stage Homecomings; Links Will Host Omaha Tech

GAMES TODAY
Omaha Tech at Lincoln High (Over), 3 p.m.
Northeast at Southeast (Over), 7:30 p.m.
Hebron at Pius X, 4 p.m.

By BOB McCOY
Star Sports Staff Writer

Two homecoming games headline a busy prep football slate as all four Capital City clubs get into action on the home front today.

Lincoln Southeast entertains crosstown rival Lincoln Northeast in the Southeast homecoming and Pius X plays before its old grads against Hebron in games tonight. Lincoln High hosts Omaha Tech in an afternoon contest.

The Northeast-Southeast fray will be the second of a series which started a year ago. Southeast won last year, 14-0, and will be trying to keep their record clean in the rivalry. The game will be billed as a thriller, with both clubs trying to get back on their feet after being knocked off last week.

Southeast is 5-2 for the year and will probably be installed as the favorite, but a dangerous Northeast passing attack could give the Knights a rude awakening. The Rockets own a 2-5 mark, losing their last four in a row.

Jack Giebelhaus directs the passing attack for coach Art Bauer's Rockets and will be the target for Southeast's capable defense. Quarterback Dave Myers and halfback Dick Harr are the main cogs in the Southeast offensive system.

Pius X, back from a week's lay-off, will play the favorite's role against Hebron, which has shown little power this season.

The Thunderbolts missed last week because of an epidemic of influenza which closed the Pius X school. Coach Vince Aldrich counted 25 gridders out of action last week, but the squad is expected to be at full strength against Hebron.

Lincoln High, which has been battling with Omaha prep clubs the past two weeks at Omaha, finally gets a shot at one in the Capital City this afternoon against Tech.

The Links thumped Omaha North two weeks ago and then last week outplayed The Star's No. 1 team Omaha South during the first half before falling, 34-20.

Tech has been able to produce only one victory this season and the Links are favored to clean house today. The Lincoln mark is a deceiving 2-5.

BOXER DUPAS WINS COURT NOD; WILL GET WHITE BIRTH CERTIFICATE

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Ralph Dupas, third-ranking lightweight contender, Thursday won his court battle to live and box in Louisiana as a white man.

Judge Rene A. Viosca of Civil Court ordered the New Orleans Health Department to issue Dupas a birth certificate listing his parents as white.

If the judge had declared Dupas' parents Negro, the boxer would not have been allowed to fight white men. Louisiana's segregation laws forbid mixed bouts.

The race of the 21-year-old boxer was first questioned publicly last April when Mrs. Lucretia Gravolet, former registrar of births for neighboring Plaquemine Parish, appeared before the Louisiana State Athletic Commission. She told the commission the boxer's real name was Ralph Duplessis and he had registered him at birth as a Negro.

But Dupas, brought up in the New Orleans French Quarter, denied the statements of Mrs. Gravolet. The commission refused to call off Dupas' fight with welterweight Vince Martinez of Patterson, N.J., a bout that Dupas won. After the Martinez fight, however, the commission ruled it could not sanction any more bouts for Dupas until he showed up with a birth certificate.

Dupas asked the health department for a delayed white birth certificate. He explained he had never received one because he had been delivered by a midwife, not a doctor.

After investigation, the department refused, claiming that Dupas' parents were Negro. Officials, as court testimony later brought out, also changed the birth certificates of Dupas' brothers and sisters from white to Negro.

Dupas filed suit in Judge Viosca's court, asking that the health department be forced to issue him a white birth certificate. The court held hearings in August and early October. Judge Viosca said that testimony convinced him that the parents, Peter and Evelyn Dupas, were white.

After the suit was filed, the athletic commission agreed to let Dupas fight white fighters until the court battle was over. Dupas had one fight in New Orleans, beating Joe Miceli easily.

In Mobile, Ala., Dupas told newsmen, "I feel terrific."

"It's a relief to have everything off my mind and have a good conscience," he added.

Dupas said he would like to fight in Mobile Nov. 4 if a suitable opponent can be found. He said he is scheduled to fight in New Orleans before then, but would prefer to fight in Mobile first.

State Prep Unbeaten List Due For Slice Tonight

Nebraska's list of unbeaten prep football teams is slated to take a big slice tonight, with several clashes of unbeaten elevens. The top such contest is the tilt featuring Class B No. 1 Cozad at Lexington, No. 4 in Class A in The Star ratings.

There were no less than five other games between unbeaten teams in all the classes. A big Class A battle is Omaha Cathedral at Falls City, both beaten out of the state but not within.

Class C power Desher faces Wilber, also unbeaten, for the Little Six Conference title.

In eight-man football, Dakota City started things off Thursday night by whipping Emerson 39-33 in a battle of unbeaten powers. Six-man tonight has Talmage at Brock and Chambers at Clearwater, all unbeaten.

In addition, several unbeaten teams are expected to have tough times today, such as when unbeaten Holdrege travels to unbeaten Minden in a Class B clash. Schuyler, twice tied, may also have trouble with Crete.

Lincoln has a full slate today, with Northeast and Southeast playing tonight in the top attraction. Lincoln High meets Omaha Tech this afternoon, and Pius X plays Hebron tonight.

Omaha's top contest sees Creighton Prep tangling with Omaha Benson. In Big Ten games, Grand Island plays Fremont and McCook takes on Kearney.

Other top games include Albion at Aurora, Wahoo at Ashland, Hastings at Beatrice, Columbus at Omaha Westside, Plattsmouth at Fairbury, North Platte at Sidney, and Auburn at Tecumseh.

Bassey Discards Title

LONDON (AP)—Hogan "Kid" Bassey of Nigeria Thursday gave up his British Empire featherweight title because he has too many commitments as world champion.

Bassey won the Empire title two years ago by knocking out Irishman Billy Kelley in Belfast. He became world featherweight champion last June when he defeated Cherif Hamia of France.

Dana Game Off

BLAIR—The scheduled football game between Sioux Falls (S.D.) College and Dana Friday night has been canceled by an outbreak of flu.

3 Nebraska Players On Doubtful List

Nebraska's football Cornhuskers took one last round of practice on their pass defense Thursday as they prepared for the passing game they expect from Kansas here Saturday.

Coach Bill Jennings has been drilling his team on pass defense, one of the obvious weaknesses, all week. Some of the Cornhuskers troubles in this department have been attributed to the lack of backfield speed.

The Huskers also put their kickers through some long drills Thursday.

Friday afternoon Nebraska will have a light workout in Lincoln and then go to a hotel to spend the night before the homecoming game.

Dick Kleiber, right guard, apparently has been scratched for Saturday because of the flu. Left tackle Don Mongerson, also a flu victim, is on the doubtful list.

Guard Don Kampe is also on the doubtful list, with injuries. He has not worked out this week.

Games Halted Twice

SIDNEY (AP)—The flu bug has caused postponement of two Cheyenne County football games not once, but twice.

Potter was scheduled to play at Dalton Oct. 18. However, flu at Potter forced rescheduling the tilt for Oct. 28. Now flu is prevalent at Dalton and the game has been re-set for Nov. 4.

Lodgepole, unable to make it to Gurley for the Lodgepole Valley Assn. eight-man championship Oct. 23, postponed the game to Oct. 28. By then Gurley's grid squad was sick. A new date for the game hasn't been set.

Ord Game Is Off

ORD, (AP)—Ord High School coach William L. Gogan said Thursday Ord's Friday night game with Gothenburg has been called off. Rescheduling seems unlikely.

Dartmouth Guard Is All-American Candidate

Joe Palermo, 190-pound captain and guard of unbeaten Dartmouth, is the leading New England candidate for All-American football honors. The Lowell, Mass., senior heads the list of nominees submitted by the regional All-American board of the Associated Press. (AP Wire-photo)

SWEEPSTAKES, BLIND DATES CALLED OFF

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (INS)—A college sweepstakes, with a pre-paid football weekend complete with blind dates as the prizes, was nipped in the bud by Yale University Thursday.

A group of Yale undergraduates, headed by a 21-year-old senior, Richard Feder, of East Orange, N.J., dreamed up a zany give-away contest offering expensive paid blind dates with three eastern college girls for the Yale-Harvard game as the grand prize.

Richard Carroll, dean of undergraduate affairs, asked the students to discontinue the project when it took on what a University official described as a "commercial" tinge.

The students planned to make free contest entry blanks available through local merchants. A student would pick a score of a football game and explain why he wanted the date. Local merchants were to pay for the privilege of issuing the blanks.

The University said no disciplinary action is contemplated.

Wesleyan At Doane Tonight

All eight Nebraska College Conference teams are expected to be back in action this week after flu halted the festivities last week, but only one game is billed as a toss-up.

Doane and Wesleyan, fourth and fifth, respectively in the NCC standings, will battle for what will probably eventually be a first division spot tonight.

Doane owns a 3-2 record and will have the home advantage while Wesleyan is 2-2, but the Plainsmen may get the edge on a lower number of casualties. Doane has 13 players out with the flu, including six regulars and may be hard pressed to find a winning combination.

In other NCC games the three conference leaders — Hastings, Kearney and Peru — see action against the three bottom clubs. Kearney hosts Wayne tonight while Peru is at Midland and Chadron at Hastings Saturday.

Scottsbluff JC takes on Mesa, Colo. tonight while McCook JC meets Northwestern, Colo. JC Saturday. Also in Saturday games, Concordia hosts Sterling, Kan. and Omaha University visits Washington University of St. Louis. Dana's contest with Sioux Falls, S. D. College was canceled.

'56 Rookie Spoofs 2nd Year Jinx

NEW YORK (AP)—Cincinnati's Frank Robinson, the National League Rookie of the Year in 1956, advanced to the next plateau by being acclaimed Thursday as the league's outstanding sophomore in 1957.

The 22-year-old youngster outdistanced an impressive crop of second-year eligibles in the annual poll conducted by The Associated Press. Robinson was named on 57 of the 182 ballots cast by members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America participating in the AP voting.

The Redlegs' outfielder-first baseman had some close competition from pitcher Don Drysdale of the transplanted Brooklyn Dodgers, who will be wearing a Los Angeles uniform in 1958 and second baseman Don Blasingame of the St. Louis Cardinals. Drysdale received 44 votes and Blasingame was the choice of 36 writers.

When a player is accorded freshman honors, it isn't likely to expect an improved performance from him the following year. Robinson, however, wasn't fazed by the so-called "sophomore jinx" and refused to sit back on his laurels as his 1957 record attests.

The sturdy righthanded swinger hit .322 and tied Hank Aaron of Milwaukee for third place in the league batting race. As a rookie, Robinson batted .290.

Although his home run output dipped from 38 in 1956 to 29 last season, Robinson collected 31 more base hits.

His 197 safeties ranked him third in this department and he had only three less hits than pacesetter Red Schoendienst of the Braves.

In 150 games the powerful wrighter hitler batted in 75 runs and scored 97. Used regularly as a left fielder, Robinson also filled in adequately at first base for Ted Kuszewski and George Crowe.

At the end of the season Robinson entered the Marine Corps active reserve program for six-months training and reported to Parris Island, S. C. He will complete his full-time active service by next April 1 and will report to the Redlegs in time for the regular season.

This is the second successive year that a member of the Redlegs has been selected sophomore of the year. Catcher Ed Bailey was given the accolade a year ago.

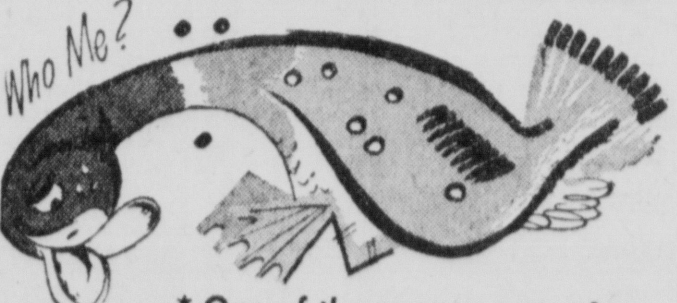

Drysdale, a tall righthander, posted a 17-9 won-lost record with the Dodgers and his 2.69 earned run average tied him for second in the rankings. Blasingame, a swift, sure-handed infielder, batted .271 and stole 21 bases while handling the lead-off position capably for St. Louis.

Other players named in the balloting included pitchers Lindy McDaniel of St. Louis and Moe Drabowsky of Chicago 13 each, second baseman Bill Mazerowski of Pittsburgh 12, outfielder Gino Cimoli of the Dodgers 6 and shortstop Charlie Neal of the Dodgers 1.

DeMarco... lifted?

Ref Accused Of Helping DeMarco

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Eddie Yawitz, manager of welterweight Virgil Akins of St. Louis, charged Thursday that referee Jimmy McCarron helped Tony DeMarco to his feet in what Yawitz termed a long-count knockdown in their fight at Boston Tuesday.

Akins won the fight by a knockout in the 14th round.

"On the occasion of the first knockdown in the 10th round," Yawitz said, "I was counting with the referee. When I reached 12, he had got up to eight."

"After he counted nine, he started down with his arm for the stroke of 10, then picked up De-

Triple Title Predicted For Willie Mays

... Giants' Slugger Looks Over New Park

By JACK STEVENSON
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays took a look Thursday at the baseball field he'll be playing in next season and remarked: "I'm coming to a better park for hitting."

The San Francisco Giants' outfielder who migrated here from New York along with the National League club, made no predictions on what he'll do.

But Manager Bill Rigney proved much less reticent. He predicted that one of these years his slugger staff will win the triple batting crown. He foresaw an average as high as .380.

A reporter asked "Could it be next year?"

Answered Rigney without missing a step, "There would be nothing wrong with that at all."

Mays collected 35 homers this year and hit .333 with 97 runs batted in. He is the first National League to hit 20 or more doubles, triples and home runs in one season. In 1955 he had 51 homers and in 1954 led the league in hitting with .345.

The Giants next year will play in the former home of the Pacific Coast League San Francisco Seals while a new stadium is being constructed. The layout is more nearly square than the Polo Grounds in New York, measuring 350 feet to

In contrast, the Polo Grounds was 257 to right, belled out to 458 in center and then came back to 296 in left.

"Seals Stadium is better for hitters with room to all fields. In the Polo Grounds they could bunch their outfielders," said Rigney.

Arch Moore KO's Omahan

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Archie Moore, world light heavy weight champion made it look easy Thursday night with a technical knockout over Bobby Mitchell of Omaha, Neb., at 1:45 of the fifth round in a non-title bout at Exhibition Gardens here.

Moore and Mitchell both weighed 193 for the scheduled 10-round.

Referee Bert Lowes stopped the fight after Mitchell had been sent to the canvas twice in the fifth round.

"But he did," the manager said. "He came out as though it was the first round and fought like a tiger. His worst fault is he has too much courage."

Akins' victory projected him among the top contenders for the vacant welterweight title. The National Boxing Assn. includes him in its plans for a proposed elimination tournament.

HUNDLEY NOT CLOWNING FOR PROFESSIONAL CLUB

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Hot Rod Hundley, the onetime court jester from West Virginia, evidently is going to try the role of straight man in pro basketball—at least for a while.

Rod showed before Minneapolis Laker fans for the first time Wednesday night and didn't make so much as waggish gesture.

The appearance was Hundley's second in the National Basketball Assn. He opened last week with four points in the Lakers' loss to St. Louis and picked up eight in another losing effort against Detroit.

A sizeable percentage of the crowd of 4,772 showed up to see if it was true what's been said about Hundley's occasionally zany court frolics.

While he may loosen up when the season gets rolling, Hundley was strictly business against Detroit, although business wasn't too profitable.

Clearly pressing to make good in his first home appearance, the 6-4 former All-America hit only three of 12 shots from the field and two of five free throws. He played about 18 minutes.

Laker Coach George Mikan doesn't have many doubts that Hundley will start scoring, given a little more time to make the

Tom Henrich Signed To Coach Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers Thursday signed one-time New York Yankee outfielder Tommy Henrich as their first base coach for the 1958 season.

Henrich, who was a coach with the New York Giants last season, replaces Don Lund on the coaching lines. General Manager John McHale said Lund will remain and will undertake "general coaching duties."

The 47-year-old Henrich, the "old reliable" of many Yankee outfields, ended his active playing career in 1950 after breaking in with the Yanks in 1937. He compiled a lifetime batting average of .282, played in four World Series

Spider Webb, Vaughn Meet

NEW YORK (AP)—Spider Webb's ambitious schedule brings him up against Willie Vaughn, an off-beat but dangerous opponent from Los Angeles, in a middle-weight bout tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Webb, ranked sixth among the challengers to champion Carmen Basilio in the 160-pound division, will be fighting his second main event in 16 days. In his last outing, Oct. 16, the Spider stopped Jackie LaBua in one round at Louisville.

"I can't afford to stand still," said Webb. "If Basilio has to wait on Robinson, I'd like to fight Joey Giardello or Gene Fullmer. I'm ready for anybody."

In six bouts this year, the 25-year-old Webb has lost only to Charlie Joseph at New Orleans in June. The Chicago scrapper got even with Joseph by winning the August rematch in Chicago.

Three Accept Bids To Coach All-Stars

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Murray Warmath of Minnesota, Don Faurot of Missouri and Darrell Royal of Texas have accepted bids to coach college all-stars in this year's Blue-Gray football game.

Warmath and Faurot will be members of the Northern coaching staff while Royal will help tutor the Grays. The two Yankee coaches return from last year.

Warmath succeeds Faurot as head coach of the Blues. Faurot retired as coach at Missouri last year and is athletic director now.

Wrong Punch Costs Volkoffs Wrestling Tag Team Bout

Boris Volkoff, the biggest half of the "Mad Russian" wrestling duo, landed the wrong punch at the Fairgrounds Arena Thursday night and it cost him and his brother Nicolai the main event at Tom Novak's first wrestling match of the year.

The victory went to Verne Gagne and his running mate Wilber Snyder in the best-of-three falls tag team bout.

The Gagne-Snyder tandem had fall of the match after flooring Nicolai on a series of dropkicks,

Colorado's Stransky Loses Point Lead To LSU's Taylor

NEW YORK (AP)—Jimmy Taylor of Louisiana State has forged further ahead of Colorado's Bob Stransky in the major college football scoring parade.

NCAA Service Bureau statistics released Thursday showed that Taylor has compiled 62 points as compared with 57 by Stransky. Taylor scored eight of his team's 14 points against Florida Saturday. Stransky registered six of Colorado's 13 against Oklahoma.

Duke's Wray Carlton ranks third with 51 points, followed by Overton Curtis of Utah State with 49. Four players are tied for fifth with 48 points each.

Bob Mulgado of Arizona State has the most points after touchdown, 17 of 24 attempts. Charles Rash of Missouri has converted the most extra points without a miss, 13. Jack Norris of Oregon leads in field goals with three.

Dave Sherer of Southern Methodist tops the punters with a 45-yard average on 15 kicks. Carroll Johnson of Brigham Young, the pass-interception leader with five also has punted the most times, 33.

Gary Kapp of Utah State has taken over as the top pass-receiver with 30. He also is No. 1 in receiving yardage with 464. Jerry Mertens of Drake has snared the most touchdown passes, six.

Rutgers' Bill Austin has compiled the best yardage on run-backs of interceptions, 181 on four thefts. Sterling Hammack of Oregon State and Curtis maintain their supremacy in punt and kick-

COLLEGE FOOTBALL CROWDS SMALLER THAN THOSE IN '56

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

College football attendance decreased in virtually every part of the country except the South and Southwest during the first half of the 1957 season.

But the over-all change was so small it probably could be explained by a few schedules that put the more attractive games later in the season this year—or by uncertain alumni who tossed a coin to decide whether or not they should go to the game on a threatening day.

Jayhawk To Hang At Husker Rally

A 15-foot effigy of a Kansas Jayhawk will be burned at the stake tonight to touch off a two-day Homecoming celebration this week end at the University of Nebraska.

Stan Widman of Omaha, rally chairman, predicts the most spirited student rally held at the University in recent years. He estimates that at least 2,000 students will attend the burning at 17 and W streets.

Members of the Corn Cobs, men's pep group, will spend this afternoon collecting cardboard for the fire from downtown Lincoln businesses.

The rally will start at Mueller Tower at 6:45 p.m. Led by the University's Pep Band, the students will parade through the campus to the vacant lot.

Speakers will be Coach Bill Jennings, Tom Novak, and co-captains of the Nebraska football team. Members of the team also will be present.

Pheasant Hunting Good And Fair

The State Game Commission Thursday described pheasant hunting as good in southwest and south-central Nebraska, fair in the northwest.

Hunters with dogs and hunters "willing to work" are getting their birds, the commission said.

Weather and road conditions have improved since the season's kickoff last Saturday, and even Sunday was better than opening day, the commission observed.

Duck hunting was listed as good in the North Platte Valley and reservoir areas, the southeast, the northeast and the sandhills, but only fair in the Republican valley and reservoir areas.

Goose hunting was described as fair in the sandhills and on the Missouri and Gavins Points reservoir.

Co-Champions Still Reign

The Leon's Market—Northeast Merchants midjet football game Wednesday, won by Leon's 6-0, was not for the midjet championship in Lincoln.

Midjet officials Thursday reported that the game was between the co-champions of the league to see who represented Lincoln against the Omaha champion. Both teams still reign as conference co-champions.

Mitchell FFA Wins Junior Grain Judging Contest

Eddie Strong Tops Individuals

YORK, Neb. — First place in the junior grain judging contest at the state Wheat Show here Thursday was taken by a Future Farmers of America (FFA) team from Mitchell. The team received 1644 out of a possible 1800 points.

High individual in the contest was Eddie Strong, a Mitchell FFA'er who received 574 out of 600 points.

The contest was open to active FFA and 4-H club members and teams.

Other teams in the top 10 and the points they received include: Bridgeport FFA, 2nd, 1507; Genoa FFA, 3rd, 1433; Cheyenne County 4-H, 4th, 1419; Sheridan County 4-H, 5th, 1415; Sutton FFA, 6th, 1412; Diller FFA, 7th, 1408; Hebron FFA, 8th, 1339; Sutton FFA, 9th, 1327; and Sutton FFA, 10th, 1320.

Individuals who placed in the top 10 in addition to Strong, the FFA or 4-H group they represented, and their total points are as follows: Dennis King, Sheridan 4-H, 2nd, 573; Bob Hettinger, Mitchell FFA, 3rd, 565; Stanley Jorgenson, Cheyenne 4-H, 4th, 550; Tom King, Sheridan 4-H, 5th, 530; Dale Dolburg, Mitchell FFA; 6th, 527; Loren Hansen, Bridgeport FFA, 7th, 512; Lanny Lund, Bridgeport FFA, and Larry Weitzel, Mitchell FFA, tied for 8th with 505; and Mark Kamaekers, Genoa FFA, 10th, 497.

Rust Control Progress

Meanwhile progress in chemical control of rust diseases in wheat was outlined to persons attending the Wheat Show.

Dr. J. M. Daley, plant pathologist at the University of Nebraska, told the group that despite success in breeding disease resistant varieties losses in spring wheat areas have run into millions of dollars each year since 1950.

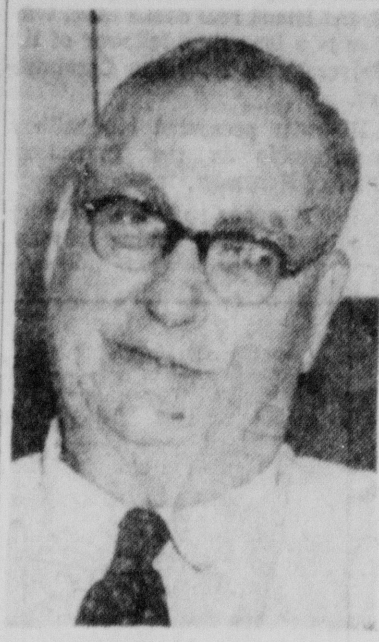

Nebraska has escaped damage so far because of dry, hot weather, he said. But at present all varieties of wheat grown in the state could suffer extensive losses due to rust, Dr. Daley warned.

Judson Evans, Washington, D. C., assistant to the general sales manager in charge of grain sales for the Commodity Stabilization Service, talked to the group on government programs for the sale and disposition of wheat and other agricultural commodities.

Export Program Cited

He touched briefly on the program which provides export subsidy payment for wheat to keep the United States in world markets. The speaker noted that the world price of wheat is about 30 per cent under the domestic price.

Another speaker, L. E. Caser, Rockford, Ill., chairman of the American Institute of Baking, urged wheat growers to plant varieties of wheat that will produce flour from which the baker can bake bread that will appeal to the American homemaker.

Several Towns Lag In Drive For Community Chest Funds

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fund raisers stretched toward hard-to-win goals Thursday in United Fund and Community Chest drives in Nebraska.

In North Platte, Red Cross was being included in the united drive for the first time. Also added was the North Platte Opportunity Center, a school for handicapped children.

Altogether 10 agencies were seeking $43,333 compared with last year's $24,700 quota with eight agencies taking part. About $19,000 of the latter amount was actually collected.

At last report, $11,656 had been collected this year.

Under '56 Drive

At Hastings, $35,000 of a $68,000 hoped-for total is in. Chest leaders say this is slightly under last year at the same time. The lag is attributed to the fact that workers aren't completing solicitation as rapidly as a year ago.

The Beatrice Community Chest had passed the $20,000 mark on its way toward a $35,855 goal.

The amount was about $4,000 less than was raised by this time last year, but Chest Treasurer Claude Minick said the overall picture is about the same as last year, because an advance gifts campaign started later this year.

Several reports were still to come in Norfolk where the amount collected had reached $15,404.

This year's goal is $24,272 compared with $21,000 last year. Subscriptions a year ago amounted to $18,500.

Grand Island's total thus far is $55,592 of its $69,911 total. The driving is just about keeping pace with that a year ago.

Omaha's United Community Service drive had collected $1,683,240 at the time of its final report dinner last Friday.

That was 95 per cent of the $1,777,825 goal and "General Chairman Richard Walker declared, 'I think victory is in sight.'"

The Alliance United Fund begins Nov. 4 a campaign to raise $21,125 for 11 of its 12 member agencies. One agency, the local Hi-Y which was budgeted for $100 this year, did not ask for money for 1958.

Farmer Hurt As Auto Hits Train

WAHOO, Neb. (INS)—A 51-year-old Rising City farmer was reported in fair condition at a Wahoo hospital Thursday with severe head injuries suffered when his car collided with a train at the east edge of Wahoo.

Saunders County authorities said a car driven by Ernest J. Haney apparently ran into the side of a Union Pacific diesel engine. Haney's injuries included a broken jaw and nose.

DELAPLANE'S
POSTCARD

An interesting thing about New York is apparently nobody lives here. They all live in strange places — Tarrytown, Nyack, Scarsdale.

Roost there, I guess is a better way of saying it. None of my New York acquaintances seems to get home to dinner. They are always about to catch the 7:45 or the 8:15. Then the 11:05 and so on.

I imagine a suburban wife is pretty startled when the breadwinner heaves into sight before midnight. She thinks he has been taken ill.

The other night I went to Peter Luger's, a Brooklyn steak house and headquarters for the cognoscenti. We took a friend who recently moved here from the West Coast.

Since he does not know the local ground rules he took an apartment on Riverside Drive. I tell you he was curious to the local New Yorkers.

"Riverside Drive?" they said. "How's the weather there?"

You would have thought he was from the Jackson Hole country. They inquired about living conditions and the state of the window box crop. All the New Yorkers hadn't lived in New York for years and years.

Most of them were magazine or newspaper editors. And I have an idea it would make a good story: "Living in New York." So few people know what it is like.

One of the few people I know who lives in New York is Mr. Irving Hoffman, the Broadway raconteur. He lives over a restaurant on West 48th street, summers in a sort of gymnasium a block away, eats at Lindy's and keeps an office in an empty insurance scatter in Times Square.

He puts me onto Peter Luger's. Peter Luger's is in Brooklyn. Right at the foot of the Williamsburg Bridge. This is as far out of New York as Mr. Hoffman cares to venture.

He looks on the suburban life as a messy adventure in uncomfortable living. Minus the Lindy cheesecake.

While we are scoffing the steak at Peter Luger's, all our diners rose at intervals and phoned home. To Nyack and Westport and Chapqua and Tarrytown.

They said they were detained and would catch the next train. Then they came back to the table and ordered another beer.

"There's nothing like living in the country," they said. "New York is the greatest town in the world to work in. But at the end of the day, you gotta get out in the country."

I called up Hoffman's-over-the-restaurant the next day to say Luger's had turned out a great steak production. Mr. Irving Berlin, the song writer, was there, and Hoffman has one of those loud-speaker telephones.

He also has a Siamese cat named Irving. And when you say "Hello Irving," you hardly know who you are talking to.

Mr. Berlin said he had been a follower of Luger's for years.

"I wrote a song there. It was in 1909. The days when Hammerstein's was bringing in the Salome dancers. Cooch dancers, you know?" said Mr. Berlin.

"I wrote a song called, 'Sadie Salome, Go Home.'"

I asked Mr. Berlin if he lived in New York these days. But he said, heavenly days, no. He COMES to New York, but he doesn't LIVE here. He lives on the West Coast.

"But you're moving back to the big town now?"

"No," said Mr. Berlin, "I'm on my way to Florida."

That's New York. Practically nobody lives here. They are just on their way home.

Modern Science Advancements Present Challenge To Lawyers, Bar Group Told

OMAHA — "Others have harnessed the wonders of the electronic age—why not lawyers?" This question was put to the Nebraska Bar Assn. Thursday by Charles S. Rhyme of Washington, D. C., president of the American Bar Assn.

In an address at the Bar Assn.'s annual banquet Rhyme said although "no substitute can be found for the lawyer's judgment in evaluating materials disgorged" by an electronic indexing machine, "the time saved in finding the material would be a tremendous economic aid to lawyers."

He noted that large industry through machine indexing of personnel records "can locate one employe with an unusual experience in a matter of minutes. And the FBI, through electronic aids, can quickly find one out of millions of fingerprints. The Bible has now been indexed on electronic tape. This electronic indexing idea is therefore worth exploring, and it will be."

The advancements of modern science also presents a challenge to the lawyer, Rhyme said, to keep the law abreast of the changing times lest our government of laws become a government of men.

"Since law is in essence crystallized public opinion based on experience, law oftentimes lags behind new economic, social and scientific changes," he said. "In an era of change, the law must change to meet the needs of society, and most of the current needs in law are right here on earth, rather than in outer space."

He cited the program of the American Bar Assn., in attempting to be of service to the public and the profession, noting its efforts to modernize laws dealing with transportation, communication and administrative procedure of federal agencies.

Mid-State Officials Next Step Feasibility Report To Congress

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — The next step for the Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District is to "get our feasibility report to Congress in time for the next session," Doyle Graham, Mid-State project engineer, said Thursday. Mid-State was given a new five-year lease on life in a special election this week.

This feasibility report, which has been in preparation for several months, is based on the independent engineering report made by the firm of Black and Veatch of Kansas City, plus reports of the Fish and Wildlife Service, the Corps of Engineers and the Bureau of Reclamation. It is being made at the request of the Department of Interior.

While the feasibility report is to be made to the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, which now has a bill providing federal financing of a large part of the Mid-State project, it will undoubtedly be reviewed by the Interior Department, Graham said.

After all this has been cleared, it will be time for a committee hearing on the Mid-State bill, intro-

Department Store Sales Up One Pct.

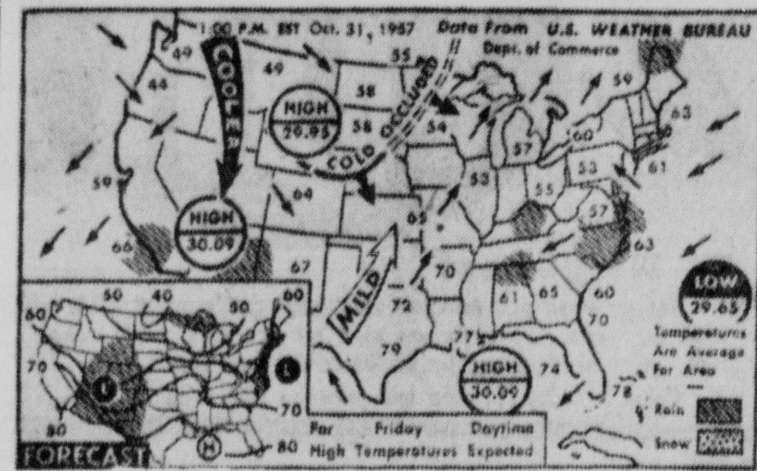

OMAHA — Nebraska department store sales for the week ended Oct. 19 were up one per cent over the corresponding week of 1956, the Federal Reserve Bank reported Thursday.

The increase through Oct. 19, amounts to 3 per cent the bank figures showed.

Rev. Beahan Heads Ministers At York

YORK, Neb. — The Rev. James Beahan, pastor of the First Christian Church here, was elected president of the York Ministerial Alliance, succeeding Dr. Robert Matthews.

Other officers are the Rev. Robert Moorhead, vice president, and the Rev. C. D. Holley, secretary-treasurer.

Part Of Central Plains To Get Rain

Occasional rain or drizzle is forecast for Friday east of the Appalachians and from New England south to North Carolina. Showers are expected also for upper Michigan, northern Minnesota, central and southern plains, and the eastern part of the southern plateau. Fair weather is expected for the remainder of the country with some cloudiness. (AP Wirephoto Map)

AF Long-Range Snark Missile Fired From Florida; Test Center Strike OKd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced Thursday night that a Snark guided missile was fired from the missile test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Thursday.

The Snark is a long range, "intercontinental" missile of about 5,000 miles range.

The Air Force missile is subsonic speed in flight, but is designed to dive on its target in the terminal phase of flight at supersonic speed. It is capable of carrying a nuclear warhead.

The Air Force fired a Snark missile from Cape Canaveral last spring which ran away, refusing to respond to controls, and was last seen headed for the jungles of Brazil.

Earlier Thursday, the Defense Department said a Jupiter missile fired Wednesday night from Canaveral didn't function properly and had to be destroyed.

Concert Will Honor Hardt, Ex-Director

SEWARD, Neb.—The 45-piece Concordia College Band, directed by Charles Krutz, will present its annual homecoming concert in Seward tonight at 8:30 p.m. in the Chapel Auditorium. This year's concert will honor Henry L. Hardt, professor emeritus and former director of the band.

Prof. Hardt, who celebrated his 79th birthday last Saturday, came to the U.S. at the age of 14 from Steeden, Germany. In 1909 he moved to Lincoln, where for more than seven years he was a teacher at Trinity Lutheran Parochial School. While in Lincoln he received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Nebraska.

He accepted a position at Concordia in 1921.

The Concordia Band is in its 47th year, having been organized in 1910 by the late Prof. Karl Haase.

ISRAELI LAND RECLAMATION PROJECT DONE

TIBERIAS, Israel (AP)—Israel's Lake Huleh land reclamation project, long bone of contention with Syria, was completed Thursday.

The last rock barrier was removed and water began flowing from the swampy lake into the River Jordan. Israel expects to turn 15,000 acres of malaria-infested bog into arable land.

The swap lies near the Syrian border in a zone demilitarized under terms of the 1949 Syrian-Israeli armistice ending the Palestine war. Syria insisted the project violated the armistice agreement.

Work on the project, planned since 1941, was held up until 1951. Then Maj. Gen. William Riley, at the time chief of staff of the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization, held the project would not violate the armistice.

Considine, Famed INS Newsmen, Goes To Moscow

NEW YORK (INS)—Bob Considine, famed International News Service reporter-columnist, left New York Thursday night for Moscow to write special reports on the major developments in the Soviet Union.

He will accompany William Randolph Hearst Jr., editor in chief of the Hearst newspapers, and Frank Conniff, Hearst newspaper national editor, both of whom already are in Europe.

Considine will arrive in the Soviet capital while reverberations of the latest Kremlin shakeup are being felt, and as the Russians prepare to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

World attention will be focussed intensively on Moscow for the next few weeks because of the anniversary celebrations and the Kremlin struggle for power that led last week to the dismissal of Marshal Georgi Zhukov as Soviet defense minister.

Odell Considering New High School

ODELL, Neb.—Preliminary plans are being drawn up for a new high school building at Odell. Shaver and Shaver, Salina, Kansas architects, have been retained to draw up plans and cost estimates.

The board of education is also obtaining plans for construction of four additional class rooms to the elementary school.

George Kirkland Dies; Pawnee City Grocer

PAWNEE CITY, Neb.—Funeral services for George Kirkland, 53, longtime Pawnee City grocer, will be at 10 a.m. Saturday from the Steinauer Catholic Church. Burial will be in St. Joseph Catholic Cemetery at Beatrice.

signed to dive on its target in the terminal phase of flight at supersonic speed. It is capable of carrying a nuclear warhead.

The Air Force fired a Snark missile from Cape Canaveral last spring which ran away, refusing to respond to controls, and was last seen headed for the jungles of Brazil.

Earlier Thursday, the Defense Department said a Jupiter missile fired Wednesday night from Canaveral didn't function properly and had to be destroyed.

Strike OKd

NEW YORK (AP)—A clerical union Thursday authorized a strike of Pan-American Airways employees at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile testing center. No strike date was set.

Walter T. Coleman, general chairman of the union, said a strike could bring an immediate halt to the missile test program, if other union employees at the base observed Pan-Am picket lines.

The top secret rocket testing base is the proving ground in the nation's current drive to overtake Soviet Russia in the guided missile race.

The union involved is the airlines division of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees.

Coleman said the strike authorization came at a vote of the executive committee. The full executive board of the union is scheduled to meet in Brownsville, Tex., Monday. Coleman said a strike date probably would be set then.

A Pan-Am spokesman said the company has a contract with the armed forces to maintain and service equipment for the launching, testing and tracking of guided missiles from the base.

Garland Man 'Fair' After Truck Crash

William B. Housel, 58, of Garland, was reported in fair condition at a local hospital after being injured in a two-truck accident Thursday morning.

Hospital officials said Housel suffered multiple cuts and two broken legs in the mishap. The Safety Patrol reported Housel was driving his pickup truck south on a county road when it was in collision with another pickup truck driven by Walter Brauer, 46, of Pleasant Dale, who was eastbound. The mishap occurred at a county road intersection two miles north of U.S. Highway 34 at the Seward-Lancaster County line.

Housel was thrown from his truck by the impact, the Patrol said, and both trucks ended up on their sides.

Thousands Attend Rites For Mayer

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Movie industry immortal Louis B. Mayer, 72, was laid to rest Thursday amid the tearful eulogies of more than 3,000 of his friends and associates.

Dozens of the Hollywood personalities whom the colorful film tycoon boosted on the path to fame and fortune walked wet-eyed past his elaborate casket.

The Wilshire Boulevard Temple in Los Angeles was packed with more than 2,000 mourners. More than 3,000 others stood quietly by in the dazzling sunshine outside.

Cigarette Tax Take Drops Off

Nebraska tax collections on cigarettes fell sharply from nearly half a million dollars to less than $300,000 in October.

Retailers apparently stocked up on cigarettes in advance of the one-cent tax increase which brought the tax to four cents a package on Sept. 20, according to H. L. Wichman, cigarette tax division chief.

The higher rate did not apply to stocks already in the hands of retailers when the increase went into effect.

The rush to stock up resulted in collections of $295,495.48 in September, while the October amount dropped to $299,753, compared to $325,369 for that month last year.

Cooper To Be CPPD Director

... Replacing Father

Guy Cooper Jr. of Humboldt will become a Consumers Public Power District director, replacing his father, Guy Cooper Sr., who resigned because of ill health.

Gov. Victor Anderson, announcing the appointment, said that with the elder Cooper's resignation Nebraska is losing "the splendid leadership of a truly outstanding and devoted man." He has been a CPPD director since 1947.

The new appointee is president of the O. A. Cooper Co. of Humboldt, member of the Knights of Columbus and past president of the Midwest Feed Man of a cturers Assn. and of the Rotary and Chamber of Commerce in Humboldt.

In 1944 he was an alternate delegate to the Republican National Convention.

Economy Still Desired Despite Sputnik—Harrison

SEWARD, Neb. (R-Rep. Robert Harrison (R-Neb) said that despite Sputnik, "I am sure that most Nebraskans and most sensible Americans remain vitally interested in the continuing struggle to increase economy in the federal government."

He referred to "the calamity howlers who have suddenly decided we should bankrupt our economy to produce a competitor to Russia's Sputnik."

"It is of course unfortunate that the Russians have a working earth satellite before we do, but it is not fatal to the free world," he declared. "What would be fatal would be economic collapse on the part of this country."

Harrison is winding up a month's tour of his Third Congressional District.

About 300 Republican party workers are expected in Lincoln Friday for committee meetings at the Cornhusker, according to State Chairman Richard E. Spelts Jr. of Grand Island.

One of the most important meetings will be that of the new agriculture committee, Spelts said, for "never before has the party had a committee that spoke for the most important segment of the Nebraska economy."

Another "first" will be the annual report of his activities which Spelts plans to give to the executive committee and state central committee.

Earlier Selection
Spelts said he will suggest to the central committee that the state chairman be named at Founders Day in March of each election year.

He said that would give the chairman, previously named in September of election years, more time before he actually starts campaign work.

Another suggestion Spelts will make is that county chairmen select a committee of seven to nine members to draft a party platform for presentation at the state convention.

'Grass Roots'
Platforms previously were drafted on the state level but "I want our platform to reflect thinking at the grass roots level," Spelts said.

The state chairman also had ideas to present to the more than 100 persons who have been invited to attend the meeting of the new Honor Club Committee.

That group, he said, may recommend persons to be honored in a Nebraska Republican Hall of Fame and plan "more tangible things" such as a place to keep "paintings and other mementoes from the past."

Committees which will meet Friday:

- Executive committee.
- State central committee.
- County chairmen and precinct workers.
- County vice chairmen and precinct committee women.
- Finance and budget committee.
- Founders Day committee.
- Agriculture committee.
- Music club committee.
- Young Republicans.

College GOP To Meet Here

Dan Hofgren, College Young Republican national chairman, and John Ashbrook, Young Republican national chairman, both of Washington, D.C., will speak in Lincoln Saturday.

They will address College Young Republicans from Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma at a noon luncheon at the University of Nebraska Student Union.

Chairman for the regional convention is Darinna Dee Turner of Lincoln, an NU student. Peter Smith of Portland, Ore., a student at Dana College, Blair, will preside at the Saturday luncheon.

A business meeting is scheduled for 5 p.m. Friday at the Cornhusker, with Louis Schultz of Osmon, Neb., presiding.

NBC-TV Cancels Bob Hope Show In Sponsor Snag

HOLLYWOOD (U.S.) — For the first time in 25 years of broadcasting and television, a show starring Bob Hope has been canceled.

NBC-TV said Thursday the Hope TV show set for Thursday, Nov. 7, will not be seen. Instead "Dragnet" and "The People's Choice," the shows usually seen at that time will be presented.

Previously, Timex Corp., sponsor of Hope, had canceled sponsorship of the show after Hope made a guest appearance on Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV series debut. Sinatra has Bulova, a rival watch firm, as one of his sponsors.

wanted to take over Hope's show but there was not enough time to get the advertising messages together for Nov. 7.

A new schedule will be announced for Hope's show which has been played before a live audience and was kinescoped.

Sources close to the comedian said the show needs only an updating of the opening monologue for reuse. That could add another $10,000 to the cost.

NBC-TV said another sponsor Hope had based his monologue on the recent marriage of his sidekick, Bing Crosby to Kathy Grant.

Sentence Of 5 Years Asked For Girard

MAEBASHI, Japan (U.S.) — The prosecution conceded William S. Girard did not intend to kill a Japanese shell scavenger and asked a Japanese court to give him a five-year sentence. It could have demanded 15 years.

Before resting its case, however, the prosecution pictured the 22-year-old Ottawa, Ill., soldier as unrepentant about the death of Mrs. Naka Sakai on a firing range Jan. 30. The question of repentance is important in Japanese courts.

Girard's attorneys will summarize the defense Tuesday. They will contend that while Girard admitted firing an empty shell casing from his grenade launcher he acted while on official guard duty.

Verdict Awaited
The three-judge court expects to hand down a verdict two weeks hence. There was much speculation the court, if it convicts Girard, may set sentence at two years or grant a three-year suspended sentence. That would permit Girard to return to the United States with his Japanese wife.

Suspended sentences are frequent in Japan for first offenders, especially foreigners. Acquittals are rare.

Repentance, a factor in Oriental justice regardless of blame, could figure in whether a sentence is suspended. The prosecution's final statement argued Girard "has not taken enough measures to console the soul of the victim or to apologize or console the family and . . . we cannot find any evidence of his real repentance."

Adm. Burke Says ICBM Missile Is Good To Have
WASHINGTON (U.S.) — Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of Naval operations, said Thursday the Intercontinental Ballistic Missile (ICBM) doesn't make all other weapons obsolete — but it's a mighty good thing to have.

Burke spoke with newsmen on arrival by air in Washington from an inspection of the 7th Fleet in the Pacific.

As for the U.S. weapon strength relative to Russia, he said, "it's a good thing we have many ways of getting to them — but the ICBM is a good thing too."

Asked to specify the other ways he meant, he listed the Strategic Air Command, the Air Force's long range bombing arm, "all kinds of missiles, including Navy missiles — and, of course, Navy air."

The Soviets in recent weeks claimed to have perfected a missile capable of being fired from one continent to another. The United States is working on such a weapon, and has already in its arsenal a variety of shorter-range missiles considered capable of reaching Russian territory from overseas bases or ships.

Burke said he was greatly pleased with the "vim and vigor" the 7th Fleet displayed.

He said he found no signs of alarm about the chance that fighting might break out again between Communist and Nationalist Chinese over the offshore islands in the Formosa Strait — "but of course you can never be sure what's going to happen in that area."

AUTO OUTPUT IS CLIMBING
DETROIT (INS) — Automotive News said Thursday 1958 car production in the U.S. should climb to a five-month high of 128,227 units this week.

The statistical agency said this would be a 12.5 per cent increase over last week's output and a 9.1 per cent hike over production figures for this comparable period in 1956.

Automotive news said Ford is expected to work 13 of its 15 assembly plants six days while Chevrolet plans to work half of its 12 units on similar schedules.

Too-Big Zhukov Is Cited

Accused Of Try As 'Saviour'

LONDON (INS) — Reports from Moscow said Thursday night that Soviet propaganda experts have launched strategy huddles to plot the line to feed the Russian people about Marshal Georgi Zhukov's downfall.

Official announcement deciding the future of the most decorated soldier in the Kremlin is expected any time within 24 hours persistent reports have indicated.

The reports said the announcement will accuse Zhukov of having tried to set himself and the Red Army up as "saviours" of the Soviet Union and Communist Party.

'Decisive'
Dispatches from the Soviet capital reaching Belgrade through rigid censorship said the marshal wanted to turn the Army into a "decisive" force to save the nation from dismemberment threatened by the march of events following Stalin's death in 1953.

The Italian Communist party newspaper Unità in a dispatch from Moscow said that meetings of party militants had already begun to decide on how best to explain Zhukov's downfall to the Soviet people.

The announcement expected at any time may throw light on the real reason Zhukov was suddenly removed as defense minister following his return from a visit to Albania and Yugoslavia.

Communist chief Nikita Khrushchev has said a new job will be found for Zhukov, "in accordance with his qualifications."

P.O. Chief Sees Tragic Downturn Of Postal Service
LOS ANGELES (U.S.) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield Thursday predicted a "tragic deterioration" of postal service if Post Office facilities are not modernized quickly.

"We have initiated intensive research programs to develop electronic and automated equipment," he told the closing banquet of the 53rd annual convention of the National Assn. of Postmasters of the United States.

"The machines we are developing are now almost ready for production and use. But we can't produce them or use them unless we can get the money to buy them with."

"As of now we are unable to get that money. And why not? Because the Post Office is operating at a deficit of more than 700 million dollars a year, and that deficit is headed toward the full billion-dollar mark."

"... We are still charging 1932 prices for our services and we must pay 1957 costs for the things we buy and lease."

"There has been no significant postage rate increase since 1932 — a quarter of a century ago."

Hospital Patient Named In Slaying Of Clinic Director
YANKTON, S.D. (U.S.) — A coroner's jury found Thursday that Dr. Otto Baum, clinical director of Yankton State Hospital, met death feloniously and apparently at the hands of an inmate who had been at the institution for the past 14 years.

The jury named Frank Vyzralek, who was turned over to custody of the Yankton County Sheriff but was retained at the hospital under maximum security. Hospital officials said Vyzralek had been in semi-security previously and had been an inmate at the State Prison before being sent to the hospital.

Dr. Cecil Baker, hospital superintendent, said Vyzralek had been in and out of mental institutions since 1936.

Dr. Baum, a native of Germany, died while he was on his rounds of the hospital grounds. He was stabbed in the heart, apparently with an ice pick. A male patient testified he saw Dr. Baum assaulted.

"Make up your mind! While you've been deciding, meat loaf has gone up ten cents and steak twenty cents!"

Reuther: 'Ike's Idea Leads To Job Loss'

WASHINGTON (U.S.) — Walter Reuther, president of the Auto Workers Union and vice president of the AFL-CIO, said Eisenhower suggested Wednesday that the public buy less as a way to combat rises in the cost of living.

The union leader scoffed at such an idea, declaring that a don't-buy campaign could only create more unemployment.

Eisenhower, asked what advice he could offer to the consumer in the light of the cost that the cost of living continues to climb, replied:

"I just believe in a period of rising prices like in any other thing, people should attempt to purchase less than when prices are going down. Then you purchase more because things are cheaper, and that is what a competitive enterprise is."

Reuther, at the opening session of the annual convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department (IUD) which he heads, said that if industry won't discuss curbing prices, then labor will have to do something about boosting wages to spread purchasing power and create more business.

Nest Is Blamed In Deaths Of 4
SILVER SPRING, Md. (U.S.) — A chimney clogged by eight birds and a nest was blamed Thursday for the death of a mother, father and two sons.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Fisher Jr. and their sons, Michael, 7, and Mark, 5, were found dead in bed about 12:30 p.m.

The house was tightly closed and the heat stifling. The family apparently had been dead for several days. Death was attributed to asphyxiation.

Investigators found eight dead starlings and a nest in the house chimney. It was this clogging of the chimney which apparently killed the house with deadly fumes.

Lincoln Has 'Half Enough' Park Area

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln park and playground space should be "roughly doubled" to be in line with the city's growth, the League of Women Voters was told Thursday by a guest panel of city officials.

Panelists were Park Supt. James Ager, Recreation Director Jimmy Lewis, City Planning Engineer Doug Brogren and Mrs. Bernard Kreissman, a citizen.

The city park system is currently the local study and action project of the League.

Mrs. Michael G. Boosalis, its president, said League findings will be reported to the public later.

Just Half
Using the nationally-accepted standard of one park acre per 100 persons, Ager said the city's 600 acres of "in-city" parks are just half enough for the city's 128,000 population.

Ager said most of the park budget has been needed for modernizing "neglected during the war years" and little money is available for land acquisition.

"Parks and playgrounds should no longer be considered a luxury," Ager said. He urged a "strong plan" of land acquisition for future parks while still available at "farmland prices."

Wide Open Spaces
Lewis said the city does not have the "natural recreational facilities" found in other areas, but has "wide open spaces" that can be developed.

"Good recreational facilities can bring families to Lincoln and keep them here," Lewis said.

Mrs. Kreissman, speaking as a citizen, urged neighborhoods to contribute to financing and planning of neighborhood playgrounds and parks.

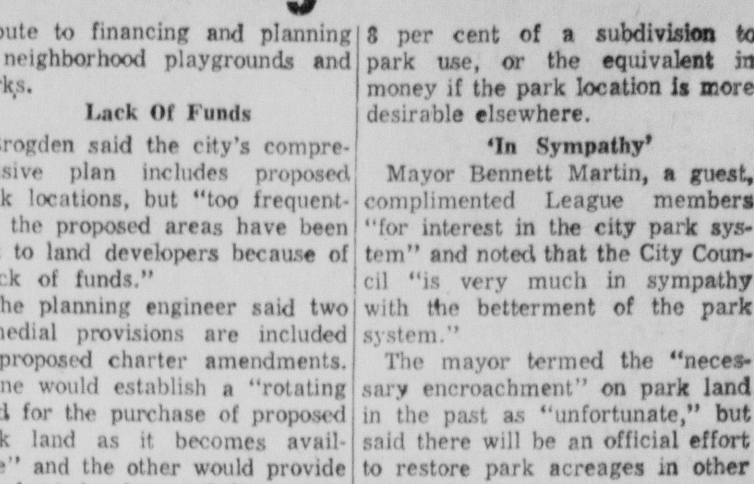

Lack Of Funds
Brogren said the city's comprehensive plan includes proposed park locations, but "too frequently" the proposed areas have been lost to land developers because of "lack of funds."

The planning engineer said two remedial provisions are included in proposed charter amendments.

One would establish a "rotating fund for the purchase of proposed park land as it becomes available" and the other would provide that land developers dedicate 7 to 8 per cent of a subdivision to park use, or the equivalent in money if the park location is more desirable elsewhere.

'In Sympathy'
Mayor Bennett Martin, a guest, complimented League members "for interest in the city park system" and noted that the City Council "is very much in sympathy with the betterment of the park system."

The mayor termed the "necessary encroachment" on park land in the past as "unfortunate," but said there will be an official effort to restore park acreages in other areas.

City Officials, League Discuss Parks

Abortion Rate Rises Sharply In Red Nations

BERLIN (INS) — Doctors attending a planned parenthood conference in Berlin reported today an alarming increase in abortions in Communist countries.

They attributed it to poor living standards, the need for housewives to work and the lack of birth control facilities.

They said the dangers of immense numbers of abortions are forcing the Communist countries to become interested in birth control.

Dr. Abraham Stone, director of the Margaret Sanger Research Bureau in New York, who has just visited Russia and Yugoslavia said that in Russia abortion has become a "serious problem."

He said he had been given no statistics, but that there were enough abortion cases to occupy "many of the hospital beds in Russia."

He stated that in Yugoslavia the problem may have reached the point where there are actually more abortions than live births, but there was also a lack of statistics there.

Dr. Jan Lesinski, vice president of the Research Institute for Mother and Child Welfare in Warsaw, said reported that in Poland there are now between 250,000 and 300,000 abortions annually.

Masked Bandits Take $20,000 In Store Holdup

LYMAN, S.C. (U.S.) — Two Halloween-masked bandits played "trick or treat" with pistols Thursday night and forced a supermarket manager to give up about $20,000 in receipts before they fled in his car.

The holdup came as 38-year-old manager Robert Littlejohn had locked up the supermarket and was heading toward his white station wagon to go home.

Littlejohn said two white men, both wearing a robe-type Halloween costume, but without gloves, accosted him in frightening masks.

"Hello, fellas, you playing trick or treat?" Littlejohn said he hailed them as a "serious problem."

"This ain't going to be no treat," one robber replied as both drew .38 caliber pistols and told Littlejohn to hand over a bag containing the night's receipts.

The manager said they forced him to open the supermarket and then take out the contents of a safe.

"We'll blow your brains out if you don't," they said.

Littlejohn, who estimated the total receipts at about $20,000, said the pair bound him and knocked him out before fleeing. He said he hailed a passing woman motorist when he came to and reported the incident to police.

NU Senior Girls Plan To Attend Ames Grad Event

Six senior girls in home economics at the University of Nebraska will attend the annual graduate day at Iowa State College, Ames, Friday.

Graduate day, according to Dr. Florence McKinney, chairman of the University Home Economics department, is designed to point out opportunities for graduate work in home economics. It acquaints senior students with graduate training programs.

Representatives from various schools in the midwest will present information on assistantships available for graduate work.

Those attending from Nebraska will be: Kay Reeves, Central City; Vivian Long, Arapahoe; Janice Elaine Nordman, Storm Lake, Ia.; Jean Rix, Norfolk; Marie Gerdes, Humboldt; and Janet Johnston, Brunswick. They will be accompanied by Dorothy Larery, assistant professor of home economics, and Mrs. Elaine Elming, instructor in housing and management.

Tax Committee Meeting Might Have 'Fireworks'

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Fireworks are anticipated at the Statehouse next Thursday when the Legislative Council's five-man Tax Investigating Committee meets for the first time since its organizational meeting Sept. 20.

Authorized by the Legislature to investigate possible tax violations, the committee decided at its initial meeting that its first study would be held in Saunders County.

Meeting next week for the stated purpose of hearing a report from Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington on the findings of the Saunders County investigation, it is not this report that is expected to light the fuse.

Showdown Expected

Informed sources reported Thursday that next week's meeting will be a show down on some of the actions taken by the Tax Committee's Chairman Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff.

Carpenter has scheduled major hearings for the committee Nov. 12 to 15 to hear representatives of the major oil companies, chain stores and pipeline companies doing business in Nebraska. A question has been raised about financing the hearings.

The Scottsbluff senator's scheduling the hearings without consulting other committee members touched off an exchange of letters with Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, chairman of the executive board of the Legislative Council.

Exchange Confirmed

Both Liebers and Carpenter confirm that letters were exchanged, but neither will disclose their contents.

Following receipt of Lieber's letter, Sen. Carpenter went to the Statehouse and personally assumed the responsibility of mailing notices of the tax hearings and paid for the postage out of his own pocket.

The Scottsbluff senator also is reported to have told Liebers that he has no intention of changing his operational tactics.

Sen. Liebers said Thursday night that he will attend the meeting of the Tax Investigating Committee next Thursday, and that the executive board of the Council plans to hold a meeting on the same date.

Business Spending To Slacken In '58, Humphrey Says

ECORSE, Mich. (INS)—Former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey predicted Thursday business spending next year will "slacken somewhat."

He told a news conference at the Great Lakes Steel Corp. plant in Ecorse, Mich.:

"The business peak may be off for a while, but current sound programs will keep up our economy for a long time."

Humphrey is chairman of the board of National Steel Corp.

Mrs. Cora Perry Dies At Age 80

Mrs. Cora Eliza Perry, 80, a Lincoln resident since 1902, died Thursday.

A native of Ulysses, she had been a practical nurse and also worked as a store clerk.

She was a member of the Salvation Army and sang in one of the Salvation Army quartets.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Stanley Garcia of San Francisco, Calif.; brothers, Leland J. Smith of Lincoln and Leslie N. Smith of Irriogon, Ore.; a grandson; and two great-grandsons.
